U.S. Will Build Anti-Missile System

Protective 'Umbrella' Planned

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. government leaders were reported today to have decided on a start toward building an anti-missile system to defend the United States against the kind of nuclear threat Red China could pose by the mid-1970s.

Such a "thin" Nike X system would involve a screen of missile-killer batteries that would throw a protective umbrella over the country. Its estimated cost: from $3 billion to $6 billion.

The Defense Department replied with a "no comment" when asked whether President Johnson had approved a go-ahead.

Pentagon officials were unusually close mouthed about the subject of a speech Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara is due to make Monday before an editors' meeting in San Francisco.

It was not certain McNamara would make the antimissile announcement at that time. The administration could hold off to give the Soviet Union one more chance to agree on a mutual limitation on deployment of an antimissile system.

Administration officials have indicated they were losing patience with the Soviets and some military officers have argued they are stalling.

Johnson and McNamara have been under growing pressure to take the long-delayed step.

That pressure became intense after McNamara acknowledged last November that the Soviet Union had started deploying an antimissile system. The Soviet emplacements were reported around Moscow and Leningrad.

Congressional demands for action escalated after Red China exploded what was believed to be a hydrogen bomb in a test last June.

The Joint Chiefs of Staff and the civilian heads of the Army, Navy and Air Force all have gone on record as favoring a start on an antimissile defense for the United States.

Republican leaders have shown signs they would make a political issue of the delay and even pro-administration stalwarts in the Senate have prodded Johnson publicly.

The reported administration decision comes at a time when the word has gone out throughout the defense establishment to hold down on spending—and to cut where possible—because of the rising costs of the Vietnam war.

The administration antimissile move, which opens the door to spending billions of dollars, thus indicates the political pressure was getting too hot—or that intelligence indicates the Red Chinese are making faster progress toward an intercontinental ballistic missile than had been expected some months ago.

McNamara has forecast that the Chinese might test an ICBM this year, but that Peking probably would not have a significant number of long-range missiles before the mid-1970s.

The Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee has been more pessimistic. In a report last month, the committee said the Chinese should be able to develop a hydrogen warhead with the blast equivalent of one million tons of TNT by about 1970, and have ready operational ICBMs by 1971 or 1972.

Defense sources have estimated a "thin" protective screen of long-range Spartan and short-range Sprint missile-killers, plus their vital radar, could be in place in about five years.

The Atomic Energy Committee is due to hold hearings on the whole question soon, and this prospect may have played a part in bringing about the go-ahead decision by the Johnson Administration.

McNamara is on record as stating that any missile defense against a Soviet-style threat—that is, against clouds of Soviet ICBMs equipped with sophisticated decoys to fool the defense—would be powerless to prevent millions of American deaths, no matter how much is spent on it.

Pentagon experts have calculated a system designed to cope with a Soviet-style threat could cost up to $40 billion, and still not be anything close to iron clad.

Just this week, the Institute for Strategic Studies in London said Soviets have narrowed the missile gap against them, increasing their force of ICBMs by about 50 per cent to a total of about 460 in the past year.

The United States has 1,054 ICBMs in underground, blast-proof silos, and plans to re-equip the Minuteman ICBM force with multiple, maneuverable warheads.

In addition to the ICBMs, the United States has 656 Polaris missiles in the tubes of 41 submarines which take positions in the oceans within range of the Soviet Union. The Institute credited the United States with a 5-1 lead in submounted missiles.

The U.S. counter-Soviet strategy is to deter a Soviet attack by aiming so many missiles at the Soviet Union that the Red defense would be overwhelmed.

Though discounting the value of any antimissile system against the Soviet threat, McNamara has told Congress "an austere ABM (antiballistic missile) defense might offer a high degree of protection" against a Chinese-scale attack at least through the 1970s.

The total investment cost of such a program, he said, might amount to $3.5 billion. Other high Pentagon officials have spoken of a range up to $6 billion for a thin defense.

Doria Begins Pounding At East Coast

Hopes Rise For Teacher Strike Peace

Another Meeting Set This Afternoon In Bid For Pact

NEW YORK (AP) — Renewed negotiations today raised the possibility of a weekend settlement in the five-day-old strike by teachers against the 1.1 million-pupil New York City public school system.

Mayor John V. Lindsay emerged at 4 a.m. today from an eight-hour meeting at Gracie Mansion with the heads of the Board of Education and the striking AFL-CIO United Federation of Teachers.

"No agreenent has been reached," he said but added that the parties would meet again this afternoon. He declined to comment on progress and the other participants refused to answer newsmen's questions.

Lindsay invited the officials to the mayor's residence Friday as Albert Shanker, president of the 49,000-member federation, and two other officers were in State

Clear Skies Due For Area On Weekend

While Hurricane Doria may get into the act to some degree next week, the tri - state area seems assured of clear skies and warm weather over the weekend.

The forecas calls for fair tonight and Sunday, with little change in temperature.

A sign of things to come, however, could be found in the outlook for some of the "fringe" areas.

Showers are expected tonight in some parts of Pennsylvania and West Virginia.

Skies were generally clear throughout Ohio again Friday night, with temperatures dropped well into the 50s.

A few patches of fog formed during the night, aided by very light winds.

Ohio continued to enjoy fair weather while the middle of the country continued to have widespread rain from a stationary front extending from the upper lakes to the western gulf and the eastern states braced for Doria.

Doria is expected to spread clouds westward into southeastern Ohio late today and tonight while northwestern sections remain generally clear.

Steelworker Killed

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — A Youngstown steelworker was killed early today at the coke plant of the Campbell Works of the Youngstown Sheet & Tube Co. The victim, Abraham Fletcher, 46, was helping a foreman in trying to place a coke door on a rack when the door fell and crushed his head against a beam.

Steel Shutdown Starts

Striking Haulers Set City Meeting

A districtwide meeting of independent steel haulers is scheduled in East Liverpool Sunday in connection with the current strike which has begun to effect steel industry production.

No new area violence was reported overnight on highways, following a week of gunfire and brick tossing on the roads.

A spokesman for the local carriers said a Gary, Ind., owner - operator is scheduled to speak at tomorrow's meeting to outline the protests of the carriers against the Teamsters Union and the freight firms.

The meeting is set for 11 a.m. at an East End truck agency at 1275 Pennsylvania Ave.

Owners from Pittsburgh, Youngstown and the Steubenville - Weirton area have reportedly been invited to the session to be held here because of the city's central location.

Union officials, steel plant management and freight company officials also have been asked to attend.

MANY OF striking force claim they are non-union men who would join the rank - and-file Teamsters if the owner-operators were granted the same representation as drivers employed by freight firms.

Ohio Highway Patrol posts at Wintersville and Lisbon report an incident - free night so far as the truck situation was concerned. A hauler in Jefferson County reported someone threw a firecracker at his rig, but authorities feel the action was more a prank than harassment.

Meanwhile, Charles C. Matheny of New Matamoras, injured badly early Wednesday when his tractor - trailer plunged over a 30-foot embankment on Route 7, remains in "poor" condition at City Hospital.

The Ohio Highway Patrol has not yet determined whether Matheny's accident was linked to the other disturbances. Officers said Matheny still cannot be questioned although an investigation continues.

Pennsylvania State Police report Beaver County free of complaint reports from truck drivers. The Carnegie barracks said that posts in the Greensburg vicinity have been investigating incidents believed related to the dispute.

SOME STEEL companies have announced cutbacks in steel production because of a strike by independent steel truckers.

Republic Steel Corp. and Youngstown Sheet & Tube Co. said Friday they were paring operations because of the strike which began almost a month ago at Gary, Ind., and slowly spread east.

'Understanding' Reached In Criticism Of Officers

Police Chief A. J. Radeschi said he and Prosecuting Atty. J. Warren Bettis reached an understanding during a conference in Lisbon Friday afternoon to assure there will be no further need for the grand jury to complain about inadequate preparation of cases by the local police department.

"We had a friendly, fruitful meeting and I am sure we have worked out a mutually satisfactory agreement that will prevent any recurrence," the chief said after returning from the meeting with the prosecutor.

He went to Lisbon to talk with Bettis about a paragraph in the grand jury's report which criticized the department for presenting cases marked by "conflicting dates, insufficient witnesses and lack of evidence."

"The meeting cleared the air and reduced the charges to their proper proportions," the chief said, pointing out that the entire allegation occupied only one brief typewritten paragraph in the jury's report to the court.

"The fact is that only four of our officers appeared as witnesses before the grand jury," the chief said. "Further, only one man was detected in an error in stipulating the date and time of an alleged crime."

The chief said he plans to discuss the problem generally with all officers, but specifically with the man who had listed a date incorrectly.

Radeschi reiterated that he filed a request with Council Nov. 10, 1965, asking creation of a post for a specially-trained lieutenant to supervise such departmental operations as training, maintenance of the record system and overseeing preparation of cases to be presented to the grand jury. However, the post was not established, he added.

Mad Beulah Bears Down On Yucatan

Peninsula Warned Of Winds And Tide As Storm Spreads

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Killer hurricane Beulah bore down on Mexico's northeast Yucatan Peninsula today and forecasters warned all in her path to prepare for 115 mile an hour winds and high tides.

Forecasters said Beulah posed the greatest threat from the island of Cozumel northward.

All craft in the Yucatan channel were warned to seek safe harbor.

The storm's fury spread out over 150 miles to the northeast and 85 miles to the southwest. It churned toward Yucatan at 10 m.p.h.

In the Atlantic, Hurricane Doria approached the Virginia and Maryland shores as coastal residents began evacuating.

Still far out at sea, Hurricane Chloe was forecast to turn more toward the west today with a slight decrease in its 105 m.p.h. winds.

Centered about 450 miles northeast of Bermuda, Chloe was not considered a threat to any land area until at least Sunday.

Beulah, which earlier killed 18 persons in heavy flooding on islands in the eastern Caribbean, regained its hurricane intensity Thursday as it moved across the warm sea water toward the 150-mile Yucatan Peninsula, a land mass of low elevation that could allow the storm to pass over it with little loss of intensity.

Navy Suffers Its Highest Combat Casualties In War

SAIGON (AP) — A slushy two-day running battle through Mekong delta swamplands subsided today with the U.S. Navy suffering its highest combat casualties of the war and a battered Viet Cong battalion melting into marshes and bamboo forests.

Battle reports listed 70 Viet Cong dead in the fight and said a Navy gunboat force took a beating when it landed Army infantrymen on the Rach Ba River at dawn Friday.

Firing from hidden positions on the river bank, guerrillas cut into the gunboats and landing craft with machine guns and recoilless rifles. Three sailors were killed and 59 wounded in the battle, with most U.S. casualties coming in the first furious minutes.

Over-all, the 2,000-man U.S. river assault force lost nine dead and 104 wounded in twisting canals and muddy ground 45 miles south of Saigon, before the crack Viet Cong 263rd Battalion scattered.

The fleeing guerrillas hit back at pursuing U.S. troops with mortars and sniper fire.

Apart from aircraft carrier disasters such as the fire that killed 132 aboard the Forrestal, the casualties and damage were the worst suffered by the Navy in Vietnam. It was by far the fiercest fight for the riverine force since it began operating in the delta early this year.

The riverine force is made up of Navy barracks ships and Army infantry units. The troops are moved through the delta's myriad waterways in specially adapted, shallow-draft landing boats and armored Monitors bristling with mortars and small cannons.

In the hottest fighting Friday U.S. jet fighters swept down on the Communists, churning the marshes with bombs and rockets.

Guerrilla gunfire brought down an F100 Super Sabre Jet but the pilot ejected and was picked up by a helicopter. It was the 207th U.S. combat plane announced as shot down in the South.

Thousands Set To Flee From Storm

Three-State Area Being Battered By Hurricane's Winds

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — Deadly Hurricane Doria screamed toward the Middle Atlantic coast today, claiming her first lives while still offshore.

A Boston, Mass. mother drowned and her two children were missing early today after the storm's winds and high seas whipped their 38-foot cabin cruiser out of control through the night off Ocean City, N.J.

The vessel's owner, Robert Wood, 29, was hospitalized in shock and incoherent after the boat finally plowed ashore near Brigantine Shoals.

Meanwhile, Doria slowed her forward speed to 10 miles an hour, and was expected to cross the coast below Wallops Island, Va., about 1 p.m.

Wake Island Lashed By Typhoon Sara

WAKE ISLAND (AP) — Typhoon Sara lashed Wake Island in the mid-Pacific Saturday with winds reaching nearly 140 miles per hour.

The Federal Aviation Agency, which administers the island, said some communications antennae were knocked down and windows in the airport control tower smashed by the fierce winds.

There were no immediate reports of injuries. The 2,000 residents had advance warning of the storm and took cover.

Winds of 127 miles an hour had been expected, but the stronger gusts struck the island, 2,300 miles west of Honolulu, at about 10 p.m. Saturday, Wake time.

Bridge Resurfacing To Start On Tuesday

Safety - Service Director Robert Vodrey said today work will begin Tuesday morning on a new surface for the Chester Bridge.

The Tri-State Asphalt Co. of Martins Ferry informed the director today it plans to begin work at 7 a.m.

Between two and three days will be required to strip the span of its old coating, but traffic will be maintained, the director said.

However, city officials and company spokesmen urged residents in both states to use the Newell Bridge whenever possible, emphasizing serious traffic tieups may result because of the one - way traffic in effect during the paving operation.

U Thant Suspends His Peace Efforts

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) Secretary-General U Thant expressed hope today that United Nations members would support new peace initiatives on Vietnam, but said for the time being he had suspended his own efforts to the search for a settlement.

"I am hopeful," he told a news conference at U.N. headquarters, "that new peace initiatives based on the principles of the charter will be seriously considered by all members of the United Nations."

Thousands Set To Flee From Storm

Three-State Area Being Battered By Hurricane's Winds

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — Deadly Hurricane Doria screamed toward the Middle Atlantic coast today, claiming her first lives while still offshore.

A Boston, Mass. mother drowned and her two children were missing early today after the storm's winds and high seas whipped their 38-foot cabin cruiser out of control through the night off Ocean City, N.J.

The vessel's owner, Robert Wood, 29, was hospitalized in shock and incoherent after the boat finally plowed ashore near Brigantine Shoals.

Meanwhile, Doria slowed her forward speed to 10 miles an hour, and was expected to cross the coast below Wallops Island, Va., about 1 p.m.

Residents of low lying areas in the path of the unpredictable storm fled to higher ground, but major flooding at mid-morning

Wake Island Lashed By Typhoon Sara

WAKE ISLAND (AP) — Typhoon Sara lashed Wake Island in the mid-Pacific Saturday with winds reaching nearly 140 miles per hour.

The Federal Aviation Agency, which administers the island, said some communications antennae were knocked down and windows in the airport control tower smashed by the fierce winds.

There were no immediate reports of injuries. The 2,000 residents had advance warning of the storm and took cover.

Winds of 127 miles an hour had been expected, but the stronger gusts struck the island, 2,300 miles west of Honolulu, at about 10 p.m. Saturday, Wake time.

Bridge Resurfacing To Start On Tuesday

Safety - Service Director Robert Vodrey said today work will begin Tuesday morning on a new surface for the Chester Bridge.

The Tri-State Asphalt Co. of Martins Ferry informed the director today it plans to begin work at 7 a.m.

Between two and three days will be required to strip the span of its old coating, but traffic will be maintained, the director said.

However, city officials and company spokesmen urged residents in both states to use the Newell Bridge whenever possible, emphasizing serious traffic tieups may result because of the one - way traffic in effect during the paving operation.

In Columbiana County

Paul Gipp Made Extension Agent

LISBON — Paul H. Gipp, 46, of Salem RD 2, manager of the Salem office of the Warren Production Credit Association, will begin work Oct. 16 as Columbiana County agricultural extension agent.

The County Extension Advisory Council employed him Thursday night with the approval of the Cooperative Extension Service of Ohio State University.

He will succeed Joe D. Pittman of Lisbon, agent since Jan. 1, 1966, who is being transferred to Columbus to supervise a 19-county extension service district.

A native of Canfield, where his mother, Mrs. Mary Gipp still resides, Gipp was graduated from high school in 1939 and served with the Marine Corps in the Pacific Theater in World War II.

He has B.S. and M.S. degrees in agricultural education from Ohio State University. He taught vocational agriculture at Johnsville High School at Shauck in Morrow County and established the vo-ag department at United High School when it opened in 1955. He remained as instructor until 1960.

Gipp is on the United District board of education. His wife, the former Betty Astry of Salem, teaches junior high science at United and their daughters, Karen and Lu Ann, are in the eighth and fifth grades, respectively.

Action Filed For $50,000

LISBON — The widow of a man who drowned two years ago Sunday in an artificial lake at New Waterford filed a $50,000 lawsuit Friday in Columbiana County Common Pleas Court.

Mrs. Kathleen L. Racz of East Palestine filed the action against the village of New Waterford and the New Waterford Fish and Game Club, Inc., claiming they had an agreement whereby the defendant club constructed a dam and created the artificial lake on club and village land.

Nicholas F. Racz, 46, drowned about 11 p.m. when his car slipped into the lake and sank. The family was attending a wedding reception at the fish and game club building, which is rented for dinners and parties.

Mrs. Racz is administratrix of her husband's estate. She said she seeks damages for herself, her son, Richard Racz, 22, and daughter, Carla Sue Trevena, 18.

The plaintiff claims the village and club jointly maintain the lake and grounds and that they were negligent in constructing a lake with such steep banks, in failing to maintain guardrails or fences along the road and parking area, and in failing to mark or illuminate the lake and banks. Mrs. Racz directed service of summons on Earl F. Welch as mayor of the village and statutory agent of the club.

died, said he already had been buried in his native village of Menia, 200 miles south of Cairo.

Amer, 47, had been extremely close to Nasser. His daughter married Nasser's youngest brother and Nasser's second son was named for Amer.

The field marshal commanded Egyptian forces in two wars against Israel, last June and in the 1956 loss to the Jewish nation. He fought the Israelis as a division staff officer in the 1948 war, also a defeat for Egypt.

Amer rose to his high military position soon after he and Nasser and a handful of other army officers overthrew King Farouk in 1952. He later became Nasser's first vice president.

"Amer's death, despite everything, was a source of deep grief for President Nasser, who regarded him for the past 30 years as a companion in arms, friend and brother," the semi-official Cairo newspaper Al Ahram said today.

It eulogized Amer as "a mortal...who tried to do his duty in the best way he knew."

The plot charges against Amer were revealed Sept. 4 in Al Ahram after rumors had circulated for several days that Nasser had begun a purge to nip a possible attempt to overthrow him.

Sources close to Amer's family indicated he swallowed a cyanide pill, apparently smuggled to him by a confidant.

They Dance In County And Drink In Town

BELEN, N. J. (AP) — At Dave's Tavern in Belen, the patrons dance in the county and drink in the town.

This is because the city limits line runs through the middle of the tavern with the bar section inside the city and the dance hall in the county.

This hadn't bothered anyone until recently.

Burglars broke into the dance hall and went through it to cross the city-county line and rob the bar. This left Belen Police Chief Felix Quintana and Valencia County Sheriff Jack Elkins with a question of jurisdiction.

They solved it by having Quintana investigate the crime. He made duplicate reports to Sheriff Elkins.

Mr. Turner died suddenly Wednesday at his home. Two sons survive.

Beulah

tip of Yucatan or even if it stays out in the Gulf, we've still got a good tropical storm or hurricane," forecaster Arnold Sugg said.

"We've been very fortunate with Beulah. It was threatening Jamaica, but went just far enough south so that it and Kingston were spared. Then came the next islands, Cayman and Swan, about 200 miles apart. It couldn't have gone through a better place, almost exactly halfway between the two islands and they were spared, too.

"But it looks as if Cozumel is in for it," Sugg said.

Beulah's passage brought heavy rain to Pinar del Rio Province in western Cuba and the Isle of Pines, an island south of Cuba that once housed Fidel Castro's political prisoners and reportedly is being converted to an educational complex.

Radio Havana, in a broadcast monitored in Miami, said livestock and some supplies were transferred to safer areas early Friday.

Distraught Husband Gives With Baby Talk

LEBANON, Ky. (AP) — One of George Trotter's friends telephoned the hospital and announced "I'm bringing my wife in. She's going to have a baby."

"Is this her fifrst baby?" asked the nurse.

"Of course not," the distraught father shouted. "This is her husband."

Jack Butler of the Steelers intercepted four passes in a game against the Redskins on Dec. 3, 1953.

Doria

was reported only at Ocean City, Md., where water was 3 feet deep in some streets.

Winds near the center of the storm were estimated at about 80 m.p.h., and coastline points were reporting 60 m.p.h. gusts by mid-morning.

At 10 a.m EDT, the center of Hurricane Doria was located about 45 miles east southeast of Wallops Island moving west southwest

A Navy reconnaissance plane from Norfolk reported that the eye of the storm was rather poorly defined. Glen V. Sachse, meteorologist at the U.S. Weather Bureau in Norfolk, said Doria was expected to weaken rapidly after crossing the Delmarva Peninsula between the Atlantic Ocean and Chesapeake Bay.

During the night Doria had been reported moving westward at 15 m.p.h., and coastal points were grateful for her slowdown.

At Wallops Island, Meteorological rocket station of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, radar vans and mobile launchers were moved inland.

Joe Robbins, administrative officer for NASA at Wallops, said the installation was expected to be safe from serious flooding.

He said high tide at Wallops at 7 a.m. EDT was only one foot above normal. The vulnerable areas of the installation, he said, were 9 feet above mean high tide.

Robbins said a skeleton crew of electricians would remain on the island as long as possible. Planes from the Langley Air Force Base and naval air stations in Virginia and Maryland were flown inland in advance of the storm. Atlantic Fleet headquarters said all ships in Hampton Roads doubled their mooring lines.

The storm was one of a trio of hurricanes in the Atlantic and Gulf of Mexico, and at the same time a typhoon, named Sara, lashed Wake Island in the mid-Pacific with winds reaching 140 miles per hour.

Property damage was reported on Wake Island but there were no immediate reports of injuries. The 2,000 residents had advance warning and took cover.

The Miami Weather Bureau said these were the first such multiple storms since 1961 when four hurricanes were swirling at one time. The last twin Atlantic hurricanes were in 1955, Connie and Dianne.

In Wilmington, N.C., two women and three men were rescued after their ketch was caught in Doria while she was still a tropical storm. They were brought safely to shore Friday. The rescued party were William Schnirring, 68, his wife Alice, 54, of Larchmont, N.Y., Schnirring's son-in-law, Lee Van Perk, 24, his wife Suzie, of New York City and the skipper, Ivan C. Fox of Bermuda.

Wind-whipped, rising tides posed a major danger. Some flooding already had begun before daybreak. In the most immediately affected areas, the Weather Bureau expected tides eight feet above normal.

Evacuation, though not complete, was the rule on a stretch of Atlantic coastline from Rehoboth Beach, Del., to Cape Charles, Va., 125 miles south.

A stronger but more remote hurricane, Beulah, ranged across the western Caribbean toward the northeast tip of the Yucatan Peninsula in Mexico with winds up to 115 m.p.h.

Moving west-northwest, Beulah, which killed 18 persons, apparently was heading for a close brush with Cozumel Island, 550 miles southwest of Miami, late today.

Another hurricane, Chloe, with 110 m.p.h. winds, threshed northwest in the Atlantic northeast of Bermuda. It appeared to pose no threat to land areas a least before Sunday.

Doria began moving full tilt toward the Virginia, Maryland and Delaware coasts Friday, changing her course from north-northwest to west-southwest unexpectedly.

By 10 p.m. the Washi,gton Weather Bureau was recommending immediate evacuation of the entire Eastern Shore areas of the three states—lest flooding tides cut off escape routes.

Evacuation centers were set up as far south as Virginia Beach, near Norfolk. East of Cape Henry, the Coast Guard removed the four-man crew of its Chesapeake light tower by helicopter.

In Hampton Roads, the Navy alerted all its ships to be prepared to get under way at once, if necessary. Some aircraft were secured and preparations were made to fly others inland.

Police turned back tourists headed to resorts and knocked on doors of persons residing in endangered coastal towns, suggesting evacuation.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration, which operates a facility at Wallps Island, directed that all movable equipment be removed from the rocket-firing station and, fearing flood tides, evacuated a guard force.

The Red Cross disaster center in Alexandria, Va. said 100 families have been moved into the bachelors officers quarters at Dover Air Force Base, Del. Shelters have been set up in Accomack County, Va., Worcester, Md., Newport News, Va., Norfolk, Va., Charles City, Md., Wilmington, Del. and Toms River, N.J.

FALL AND YOUR SEWAGE SYSTEM

Heavy fall rains bring many problems, not the least of which is the far-reaching damage to sewage systems.

Correctly designed septic tanks are constructed according to the daily flow of water and sewage, the gallonage capacity being at least equal to the amount entering in a 24-hour period. This is to allow for the solids to settle out so that digestion can take place in the bottom. An excess to the designed flow can be catastrophic to any system.

What happens then, when flooding occurs? Water - laden ground forces water into pipes, and through cracks in walls and covers of septic tanks . . . water pours through manhole covers, and vents, creating an agitation which prevents settling. This increase in flow therefore, carries large quantities of undigested materials to the drainfields and cesspools . . . areas which are already straining to dispose of tremendous quantities of liquid become clogged with solids, and even less effectual. Often such drainage areas overflow and become health hazards to both humans and livestock.

How Sea-Cal Enzymes Help:

Enzymes are not limited to working on solids that are settled — they travel where water will carry them — constantly breaking down proteins, fats, and starches, wherever they may be. Therefore in over-loaded and flooded systems. Sea-Cal continues its work right into the wells, cesspools, and drainfields—freeing the ground of pore-clogging solids and keeping drainage at its peak.

After the floods have subsided most systems have lost the nucleus of their digestion, which is the bacteria, and often take months to get started. Sea-Cal contains 80,000,000 anerobic bacteria, in each gram and, there being 28 grams to the ounce (with each bacteria reproducing itself many times a day), this means that a "seeding" with a few ounces of Sea-Cal will regenerate even the most dormant system.

Sea-Cal, the only insurance policy you can buy for your sewage system.

Beulah

tip of Yucatan or even if it stays out in the Gulf, we've still got a good tropical storm or hurricane," forecaster Arnold Sugg said.

"We've been very fortunate with Beulah. It was threatening Jamaica, but went just far enough south so that it and Kingston were spared. Then came the next islands, Cayman and Swan, about 200 miles apart. It couldn't have gone through a better place, almost exactly halfway between the two islands and they were spared, too.

"But it looks as if Cozumel is in for it," Sugg said.

Beulah's passage brought heavy rain to Pinar del Rio Province in western Cuba and the Isle of Pines, an island south of Cuba that once housed Fidel Castro's political prisoners and reportedly is being converted to an educational complex.

Radio Havana, in a broadcast monitored in Miami, said livestock and some supplies were transferred to safer areas early Friday.

Distraught Husband Gives With Baby Talk

LEBANON, Ky. (AP) — One of George Trotter's friends telephoned the hospital and announced "I'm bringing my wife in. She's going to have a baby."

"Is this her fifrst baby?" asked the nurse.

was reported only at Ocean City, Md., where water was 3 feet deep in some streets.

Winds near the center of the storm were estimated at about 80 m.p.h., and coastline points were reporting 60 m.p.h. gusts by mid-morning.

At 10 a.m EDT, the center of Hurricane Doria was located about 45 miles east southeast of Wallops Island moving west southwest

A Navy reconnaissance plane from Norfolk reported that the eye of the storm was rather poorly defined. Glen V. Sachse, meteorologist at the U.S. Weather Bureau in Norfolk, said Doria was expected to weaken rapidly after crossing the Delmarva Peninsula between the Atlantic Ocean and Chesapeake Bay.

During the night Doria had been reported moving westward at 15 m.p.h., and coastal points were grateful for her slowdown.

At Wallops Island, Meteorological rocket station of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, radar vans and mobile launchers were moved inland.

Joe Robbins, administrative officer for NASA at Wallops, said the installation was expected to be safe from serious flooding.

He said high tide at Wallops at 7 a.m. EDT was only one foot above normal. The vulnerable areas of the installation, he said, were 9 feet above mean high tide.

Robbins said a skeleton crew of electricians would remain on the island as long as possible. Planes from the Langley Air Force Base and naval air stations in Virginia and Maryland were flown inland in advance of the storm. Atlantic Fleet headquarters said all ships in Hampton Roads doubled their mooring lines.

The storm was one of a trio of hurricanes in the Atlantic and Gulf of Mexico, and at the same time a typhoon, named Sara, lashed Wake Island in the mid-Pacific with winds reaching 140 miles per hour.

Property damage was reported on Wake Island but there were no immediate reports of injuries. The 2,000 residents had advance warning and took cover.

The Miami Weather Bureau said these were the first such multiple storms since 1961 when four hurricanes were swirling at one time. The last twin Atlantic hurricanes were in 1955, Connie and Dianne.

In Wilmington, N.C., two women and three men were rescued after their ketch was caught in Doria while she was still a tropical storm. They were brought safely to shore Friday. The rescued party were William Schnirring, 68, his wife Alice, 54, of Larchmont, N.Y., Schnirring's son-in-law, Lee Van Perk, 24, his wife Suzie, of New York City and the skipper, Ivan C. Fox of Bermuda.

Wind-whipped, rising tides posed a major danger. Some flooding already had begun before daybreak. In the most immediately affected areas, the Weather Bureau expected tides eight feet above normal.

Evacuation, though not complete, was the rule on a stretch of Atlantic coastline from Rehoboth Beach, Del., to Cape Charles, Va., 125 miles south.

A stronger but more remote hurricane, Beulah, ranged across the western Caribbean toward the northeast tip of the Yucatan Peninsula in Mexico with winds up to 115 m.p.h.

Moving west-northwest, Beulah, which killed 18 persons, apparently was heading for a close brush with Cozumel Island, 550 miles southwest of Miami, late today.

Another hurricane, Chloe, with 110 m.p.h. winds, threshed northwest in the Atlantic northeast of Bermuda. It appeared to pose no threat to land areas a least before Sunday.

Doria began moving full tilt toward the Virginia, Maryland and Delaware coasts Friday, changing her course from north-northwest to west-southwest unexpectedly.

By 10 p.m. the Washi,gton Weather Bureau was recommending immediate evacuation of the entire Eastern Shore areas of the three states—lest flooding tides cut off escape routes.

Evacuation centers were set up as far south as Virginia Beach, near Norfolk. East of Cape Henry, the Coast Guard removed the four-man crew of its Chesapeake light tower by helicopter.

In Hampton Roads, the Navy alerted all its ships to be prepared to get under way at once, if necessary. Some aircraft were secured and preparations were made to fly others inland.

Police turned back tourists headed to resorts and knocked on doors of persons residing in endangered coastal towns, suggesting evacuation.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration, which operates a facility at Wallps Island, directed that all movable equipment be removed from the rocket-firing station and, fearing flood tides, evacuated a guard force.

The Red Cross disaster center in Alexandria, Va. said 100 families have been moved into the bachelors officers quarters at Dover Air Force Base, Del. Shelters have been set up in Accomack County, Va., Worcester, Md., Newport News, Va., Norfolk, Va., Charles City, Md., Wilmington, Del. and Toms River, N.J.

Money Raising Projects Set By Booster Group

The Boosters Club of the East End Red Devils Little League football team will begin selling candy to cover expenses of new team helmets, it was announced during a meeting of the group Thursday night at Thompson Park.

Mrs. Mildred Mercer, ways and means chairman, said a rummage sale will be held within the month. Donations will be received by Mrs. Jean Bahen, Mrs. Irma McCoy and Mrs. Ray Rigdon.

Mrs. Carol Pearson was placed in charge of a car wash project.

Mrs. Patricia Humphrey was appointed secretary.

Mrs. Mercer and Mrs. Humphrey were appointed to a committee in charge of distributing programs at the football games.

Mrs. Rigdon, president, conducted business.

FALL AND YOUR SEWAGE SYSTEM

Heavy fall rains bring many problems, not the least of which is the far-reaching damage to sewage systems.

Correctly designed septic tanks are constructed according to the daily flow of water and sewage, the gallonage capacity being at least equal to the amount entering in a 24-hour period. This is to allow for the solids to settle out so that digestion can take place in the bottom. An excess to the designed flow can be catastrophic to any system.

What happens then, when flooding occurs? Water - laden ground forces water into pipes, and through cracks in walls and covers of septic tanks . . . water pours through manhole covers, and vents, creating an agitation which prevents settling. This increase in flow therefore, carries large quantities of undigested materials to the drainfields and cesspools . . . areas which are already straining to dispose of tremendous quantities of liquid become clogged with solids, and even less effectual. Often such drainage areas overflow and become health hazards to both humans and livestock.

How Sea-Cal Enzymes Help:

Enzymes are not limited to working on solids that are settled — they travel where water will carry them — constantly breaking down proteins, fats, and starches, wherever they may be. Therefore in over-loaded and flooded systems. Sea-Cal continues its work right into the wells, cesspools, and drainfields—freeing the ground of pore-clogging solids and keeping drainage at its peak.

After the floods have subsided most systems have lost the nucleus of their digestion, which is the bacteria, and often take months to get started. Sea-Cal contains 80,000,000 anerobic bacteria, in each gram and, there being 28 grams to the ounce (with each bacteria reproducing itself many times a day), this means that a "seeding" with a few ounces of Sea-Cal will regenerate even the most dormant system.

Sea-Cal, the only insurance policy you can buy for your sewage system.

to reduce other steelmaking operations.

U. S. Steel Corp. said picketing at Cleveland has backed up shipments and jammed storage space. Youngstown Sheet & Tube Co. also announced cutbacks.

STEELMAKERS in Wheeling, W. Va., Buffalo, N. Y., Pittsburgh, Gary, Ind., and Chicago said the strike was disrupting their operations.

The strike has touched off shootings, windshield smashing and other instances of violence. Trucking firms and nonstriking drivers feared to take their rigs on the highways because of possible harm from roving gangs of strikers.

The strike is by drivers who own their trucks and are paid under a national agreement worked out between trucking firms and the Teamsters Union.

The owner - drivers receive about three - fourths of the hauling costs on a load of steel but want more. A spokesman for the rebel drivers say they number about 100,000 out of the 180,000 Teamster steel haulers in the nation.

Submarines Quiet And They Are Cool

YORK, Pa. (AP) — In a submarine, noise levels must be held to an absolute minimum, since vibration interferes with the sub's sonar system and can lead to detection by enemy vessels. Also, a submarine would have to surface if its supply of conditioned air were cut off.

To insure smooth performance, engineers have developed an electronic forecasting method to test each submarine air-conditioning unit before installation. By "listening" to the units in operation, engineers of Borg-Warner's York Division can tell whether each unit will meet the Navy's exacting standards over a prolonged period.

Engineers also have adapted the same technique to test air conditioners that will be used in homes, offices and stores.

Supreme Court before Justice Emilio Nunez.

"I do not consider the problem insoluble and I do not belive the parties are as far apart as some people in the city believe," said Nunez as he deferred contempt hearing against the union leaders until Monday.

They are accused by the city of criminal contempt for disobeying a temporary restraining order against the strike when the walkout over wages, working conditions and policy issues began Monday.

Underthe state's new Taylor law, banning strikes by unions of public employes, the three officials could be jailed for up to 30 days, but the city made it clear Friday it sought only to have the union fined $10,000 a day.

"Any jail penalty would be a disservice to pending negotiations," Frederic Nathan, the city's first assistant corporation counsel, told the court.

Shanker later branded the move "a cheap bit of public relations. This is just another step in the Board of Education's effort to break the union."

As the first week of the fall school term ended, less than a third of the registered pupils were showing up at the 900 schools.

Some principals said the children were showing signs of confusion in the crisis.

The UFT sought a wage scale of $7,500 to $18,000 for teachers to replace the current scale of $5,400 to $11,950. The Board of Education agreed to a mediation panel's recommendation for a scale of $6,600 to $13,600. The cost was estimated at $125 million.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. — How can I remove grass stains from clothing?

A. — These are high among the "tough ones." However, a solvent that usually works well on cotton and most colorfast materials is ordinary rubbing alcohol. For safety's sake, test first on a corner of the garment. If it tests out all right, rub the alcohol well into the grass stain until it is removed, then wash in the usual manner.

Q. — How can I remove airplane cement from furniture?

A. — Try rubbing over this with cold cream. My new household - hints manual deals with the treatment of all sorts of stains and mars on furniture.

Q. — How can I improve the shine of my shoes?

A. — Try giving a few squirts of lighter fluid to your tin of polish every time you take up some of the polish with your pad. The fluid causes the polish to spread more easily and to penetrate the leather of your shoes, and then only a light buffing is needed for a sparkling shine.

Q. — How can I make tomato jelly salad?

A. — Boil until thick, 1 quart of tomatoes, 1 bay leaf, 1 pinch salt, 1 pinch cayenne. Strain; add 1 ounce good gelatin, and dissolve in water. Place in molds, then refrigerate. Serve on lettuce with mayonnaise.

Q. — Which kind of cage is better for the canary, metal or wooden?

A. — A metal cage is more sanitary. The wooden cage sometimes attracts vermin.

Americans Take Australian Jobs

PERTH, Australia (AP) — A broad American accent floated over the tourist coach loudspeaker in North-West Australia.

"Don't forget to holler if you want to take any pictures. You probably won't see scenery like this again," said coach driver Bob Ranney.

Ranney left Phoenix, Arizona with his blond wife Candy in 1966, and arrived in Western Australia last April.

They have teamed up as coachdriver and hostess to show Australian tourists 1,000 miles of rugged North-West.

His wife, who travels through the red landscapes dotted with male colonies — but with very few women — is referred to by tourists as the "Princess of the North."

"It's just marvellous. I love every minute on tour," she told a reporter.

"We saw a newspaper advertisement — a man and wife wanted."

The Ranneys did one trial run as passengers, and then the tough seven-day safari was all theirs.

Overnight they stop at sheep and cattle stations. Ranney is first out of the bus, helps his passengers unload bedding, and starts the shearing shed kitchen fire.

Candy buys supplies in the towns, organizes the kitchen, and prepares meals, helped by women tourists.

Boy Dies, Four Hurt In Pittsburgh Blaze

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Fire swept a home in the Greenfield section early today, killing a boy and injuring four other persons.

Housewives, Of Course

Best Temporary Workers?

NEW YOR K(AP) — Housewives, who have cornered 85 per cent of the temporary work in the United States, have proved themselves more desirable than single women in the field.

That's what Richard Essey, president of the Association of Temporary Personnel Contractors, says.

"The organizational ability which the housewife develops in running a household and raising children are very practical and transferable qualities which enable her to adjust rapidly to new surroundings and take new responsibliities in her stride. She is also more apt to be a neat housekeeper at her desk.

"If more housewives knew this, they would have more confidence in seeking their first temporary job," says Essey.

CONFIDENCE is what they primarily need. And confidence is often based on knowing how to best present themselves in the current temporary job market — and also on knowing a bit about the temporary job mar ket of 1967."

This year the temporary personnel industry in the United States will pass the one billion dollar mark. It has experienced a 700 per cent increase in the last eight years, according to the Stanford Research Institute. During this period companies expanded and diversified the kind of help they were renting, and many new kinds of jobs opened.

"Thi has far - reaching effects upon the way in which a housewife seeking a temporary job should present herself," says Essey. His association is the country's largest.

FIRST, she must decide whether she primarily wants quick money, a glamor job or a job in a specific field of interest.

If it's to be quick money, she must appraise her skills. Most personnel contractors test stenographers and typists before sending them out. Many also give free brush - up courses in typing, shorthand, comptometer. Some have the complete course free from the beginning. To decide whether or not this is worth her while, the housewife must balance the comparative pay in her area against the time to be spent training.

If she has a special interest—whether it be fashion, fabrics, music, theater, public service—she should be able to get a job in this field if she presents herself properly. First she should make a list of all the education and work she has done, including voluntary work and hobbies, and not overlooking an education that was completed 20 years ago.

IN APPROACHING a temporary personnel contractor, she should be specific about the field in which she primarily wants to work. If he cannot place her, she should not give up, for chances are another one can.

Often a housewife's primary problem is one of hours. She can only work afternoons or wants to be home when the children get home from school. Personnel contractors can often place such women because businesses that are growing rapidly are highly adaptable.

"Appearance is also important," says Essey. "Especially with today's fashions. Brightly colored stockings, dresses well above the knees, and mod clothes may be acceptable once you have proved your efficiency. But the woman who dresses conservatively is likely to make her appearance count for more when it comes to job hunting."

WHILE the most common job catagories are open to secretaries, typists, clericals, bookkeepers, receptionists, switchboard operators, key punchers, comptometrists and calculators, varied and special assignments have been increasing rapidly as industry expands into new areas.

One of these new areas in the packaging of complete office procedures and company projects, which vary from sales testing a new product to undertaking the transfer to computerization.

Among the facts which a woman should know about temporary assignments:

Temporary job contractors never charge a fee to the employe.

The only deductions they make are the compulsory ones. . .such as income tax, social security, unemployment compensation.

She is an employe of the temporary contractor.

She need not accept every assignment offered her.

U. S. Steel Corp. said picketing at Cleveland has backed up shipments and jammed storage space. Youngstown Sheet & Tube Co. also announced cutbacks.

STEELMAKERS in Wheeling, W. Va., Buffalo, N. Y., Pittsburgh, Gary, Ind., and Chicago said the strike was disrupting their operations.

The strike has touched off shootings, windshield smashing and other instances of violence. Trucking firms and nonstriking drivers feared to take their rigs on the highways because of possible harm from roving gangs of strikers.

The strike is by drivers who own their trucks and are paid under a national agreement worked out between trucking firms and the Teamsters Union.

The owner - drivers receive about three - fourths of the hauling costs on a load of steel but want more. A spokesman for the rebel drivers say they number about 100,000 out of the 180,000 Teamster steel haulers in the nation.

Submarines Quiet And They Are Cool

YORK, Pa. (AP) — In a submarine, noise levels must be held to an absolute minimum, since vibration interferes with the sub's sonar system and can lead to detection by enemy vessels. Also, a submarine would have to surface if its supply of conditioned air were cut off.

To insure smooth performance, engineers have developed an electronic forecasting method to test each submarine air-conditioning unit before installation. By "listening" to the units in operation, engineers of Borg-Warner's York Division can tell whether each unit will meet the Navy's exacting standards over a prolonged period.

Engineers also have adapted the same technique to test air conditioners that will be used in homes, offices and stores.

Supreme Court before Justice Emilio Nunez.

"I do not consider the problem insoluble and I do not believe the parties are as far apart as some people in the city believe," said Nunez as he deferred contempt hearing against the union leaders until Monday.

They are accused by the city of criminal contempt for disobeying a temporary restraining order against the strike when the walkout over wages, working conditions and policy issues began Monday.

Underthe state's new Taylor law, banning strikes by unions of public employes, the three officials could be jailed for up to 30 days, but the city made it clear Friday it sought only to have the union fined $10,000 a day.

"Any jail penalty would be a disservice to pending negotiations," Frederic Nathan, the city's first assistant corporation counsel, told the court.

Shanker later branded the move "a cheap bit of public relations. This is just another step in the Board of Education's effort to break the union."

As the first week of the fall school term ended, less than a third of the registered pupils were showing up at the 900 schools.

Some principals said the children were showing signs of confusion in the crisis.

The UFT sought a wage scale of $7,500 to $18,000 for teachers to replace the current scale of $5,400 to $11,950. The Board of Education agreed to a mediation panel's recommendation for a scale of $6,600 to $13,600. The cost was estimated at $125 million.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. — How can I remove grass stains from clothing?

A. — These are high among the "tough ones." However, a solvent that usually works well on cotton and most colorfast materials is ordinary rubbing alcohol. For safety's sake, test first on a corner of the garment. If it tests out all right, rub the alcohol well into the grass stain until it is removed, then wash in the usual manner.

Q. — How can I remove airplane cement from furniture?

A. — Try rubbing over this with cold cream. My new household - hints manual deals with the treatment of all sorts of stains and mars on furniture.

Q. — How can I improve the shine of my shoes?

A. — Try giving a few squirts of lighter fluid to your tin of polish every time you take up some of the polish with your pad. The fluid causes the polish to spread more easily and to penetrate the leather of your shoes, and then only a light buffing is needed for a sparkling shine.

Q. — How can I make tomato jelly salad?

A. — Boil until thick, 1 quart of tomatoes, 1 bay leaf, 1 pinch salt, 1 pinch cayenne. Strain; add 1 ounce good gelatin, and dissolve in water. Place in molds, then refrigerate. Serve on lettuce with mayonnaise.

Q. — Which kind of cage is better for the canary, metal or wooden?

A. — A metal cage is more sanitary. The wooden cage sometimes attracts vermin.

Americans Take Australian Jobs

PERTH, Australia (AP) — A broad American accent floated over the tourist coach loudspeaker in North-West Australia.

"Don't forget to holler if you want to take any pictures. You probably won't see scenery like this again," said coach driver Bob Ranney.

Ranney left Phoenix, Arizona with his blond wife Candy in 1966, and arrived in Western Australia last April.

They have teamed up as coachdriver and hostess to show Australian tourists 1,000 miles of rugged North-West.

His wife, who travels through the red landscapes dotted with male colonies — but with very few women — is referred to by tourists as the "Princess of the North."

"It's just marvellous. I love every minute on tour," she told a reporter.

"We saw a newspaper advertisement — a man and wife wanted."

The Ranneys did one trial run as passengers, and then the tough seven-day safari was all theirs.

Overnight they stop at sheep and cattle stations. Ranney is first out of the bus, helps his passengers unload bedding, and starts the shearing shed kitchen fire.

Candy buys supplies in the towns, organizes the kitchen, and prepares meals, helped by women tourists.

Boy Dies, Four Hurt In Pittsburgh Blaze

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Fire swept a home in the Greenfield section early today, killing a boy and injuring four other persons.

Housewives, Of Course

Best Temporary Workers?

NEW YOR K(AP) — Housewives, who have cornered 85 per cent of the temporary work in the United States, have proved themselves more desirable than single women in the field.

That's what Richard Essey, president of the Association of Temporary Personnel Contractors, says.

"The organizational ability which the housewife develops in running a household and raising children are very practical and transferable qualities which enable her to adjust rapidly to new surroundings and take new responsibliities in her stride. She is also more apt to be a neat housekeeper at her desk.

"If more housewives knew this, they would have more confidence in seeking their first temporary job," says Essey.

"CONFIDENCE is what they primarily need. And confidence is often based on knowing how to best present themselves in the current temporary job market — and also on knowing a bit about the temporary job mar ket of 1967."

This year the temporary personnel industry in the United States will pass the one billion dollar mark. It has experienced a 700 per cent increase in the last eight years, according to the Stanford Research Institute. During this period companies expanded and diversified the kind of help they were renting, and many new kinds of jobs opened.

"Thi has far - reaching effects upon the way in which a housewife seeking a temporary job should present herself," says Essey. His association is the country's largest.

FIRST, she must decide whether she primarily wants quick money, a glamor job or a job in a specific field of interest.

If it's to be quick money, she must appraise her skills. Most personnel contractors test stenographers and typists before sending them out. Many also give free brush - up courses in typing, shorthand, comptometer. Some have the complete course free from the beginning. To decide whether or not this is worth her while, the housewife must balance the comparative pay in her area against the time to be spent training.

If she has a special interest—whether it be fashion, fabrics, music, theater, public service—she should be able to get a job in this field if she presents herself properly. First she should make a list of all the education and work she has done, including voluntary work and hobbies, and not overlooking an education that was completed 20 years ago.

IN APPROACHING a temporary personnel contractor, she should be specific about the field in which she primarily wants to work. If he cannot place her, she should not give up, for chances are another one can.

Often a housewife's primary problem is one of hours. She can only work afternoons or wants to be home when the children get home from school. Personnel contractors can often place such women because businesses that are growing rapidly are highly adaptable.

"Appearance is also important," says Essey. "Especially with today's fashions. Brightly colored stockings, dresses well above the knees, and mod clothes may be acceptable once you have proved your efficiency. But the woman who dresses conservatively is likely to make her appearance count for more when it comes to job hunting."

WHILE the most common job catagories are open to secretaries, typists, clericals, bookkeepers, receptionists, switchboard operators, key punchers, comptometrists and calculators, varied and special assignments have been increasing rapidly as industry expands into new areas.

One of these new areas in the packaging of complete office procedures and company projects, which vary from sales testing a new product to undertaking the transfer to computerization.

McNamara Star Falling?

Discussion of a possible rift between President Johnson and Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara sheds a little more light on one of the most controversial men of this decade.

Robert S. McNamara has been embroiled in one controversy after another since giving up his more than $400,000 anuual income as president of Ford Motor Co. to accept the $25,000-a-year post of secretary of defense at the request of John F. Kennedy.

When President-elect Kennedy announced McNamara's nomination in December of 1960, the nominee divested himself of Ford stock and options that were to cost him millions in profits.

Both President Kennedy and President Johnson were impressed with his keen analytical mind and business ability.

Yet, he has become the favorite whipping boy for columnists, broadcasters and administration critics because of his judgements.

Vietnam has been the most disastrous judgment area, with the all-purpose F-111 combat plane close behind.

The missing link so far as the public is concerned is whether McNamara was calling the shots or was merely a scapegoat for administration boners.

There is no way for the public to know enough about behind-the-scenes maneuvering to determine if Mr. McNamara is merely an adviser or carries a lot of weight. Some observers feel it has been a McNamara show.

The current dispute over bombing port cities, which Mr. McNamara has opposed and President Johnson apparently overruled, indicates the defense secretary has had a lot of leeway in decision making.

The secretary's press office says there is no disagreement in general between Mr. McNamara and President Johnson.

If the dispute does signal a downward direction for Mr. McNamara's star, it would be pure irony.

For Secretary McNamara has more supporters back of his stand that port bombing could enlarge the war than for any policy he has proposed in the last several months.

A Visit From The Future

The 21st Century has visited in the tri-state area for the second time.

It first appeared in 1957 when the nuclear power plant began producing electricity at the Shippingport facility of Duquesne Light Co.

It appeared again in July when the new plant of the Globe Refractories, Inc., began pressing, stacking and firing brick with programmed, electronic control.

A world of automated industry geared to nuclear power becomes more of a reality each day, and will be commonplace in many areas of the United States before even the 1980's.

The Crucible Steel Co. continuing casting plant, when completed, will be another visit from the future, when the process of changing ore into treated and shaped metal forms will be an uninterrupted flow through machines and furnaces operated by pre-set controls.

Automation, as have all successful innovations in history, has proven itself a benefit to the economy — and to mankind — not a job robber, but a spur for new employment, greater production, broader markets and more leisure time.

Businesses and industries which do not take advantage of these modern techniques will find themselves losing out in competition, failing to realize for themselves the full potential of the future.

Frog Legs And Winter Wheat

All of us looking ahead to the universal experiences bound to come with interplanetary travel are fascinated by a report on Biosatellite II spacecraft.

Wheat plants the spacecraft carried into orbit grew a third faster in a weighless environment. Frog eggs, on the other hand, seem not to have been affected. The wheat plants fascinate us.

When cell reproduction, earth-style, has peopled this planet with so many bipeds there is no room left for crops, we can lob next year's wheat crop into outer space and get it back in a few weeks, ready for the bread bakers.

Wheat farmers will be independent of weather and pests. The government will be the only agency licensed to put things into space, so there will be no more hanky-panky with wheat acreage allotments.

An apparently negative effect on frog eggs propelled into orbit does not worry us. Frogs grow fast enough to take care of all reasonable needs now. There is no hurry about growing more.

But lobbing seeds into orbit for a quick crop — that would be as sensational as these suitcase slickers who planted wheat in Kansas for no earthly reason but to collect a federal subsidy.

Eventually, Why Not Now?

Ohio's new requirement about color photographs for driver licenses after Jan. 1, 1969, should be good news for people other than photographers and photographic suppliers.

These people stand to reap a long-running harvest of commercial benefit. Their happiness must be obvious to one and all.

Color photos of bearers of driver licenses also will bring smiles to tavern owners, who now have no way of chopping down juvenile cheats who "borrow" driver licenses of older persons to buy drinks illegally.

In fact, everybody who relies on a driver license for identification has reason to be happy about an accompanying photograph, even if it looks like the traditional passport photo which is, of course, exactly what it will look like.

Indirection, the addition of one more bureaucratic burden to bear will hasten the coming day when each citizen will carry one master identification card that will comprise everything — his birth certificate, Social Security, draft status, credit rating, next of kin, insurance agency, academic qualifications, not to mention his lifetime identification number.

The card will be each citizen's most precious possession. It will bear the owner's lifetime identification number, meaning it must correspond with a number tattooed on the inside of his upper lip to be valid.

Eventually, why not now?

TRUMAN TWILL

Purely Personal Observations

Don't worry about school girls who squirm and hop around while waiting for the school bus. They aren't fighting wasps—just practicing to be cheerleaders.

Not being seaworthy, I cannot understand how the same wind that blows our America's Cup defenders so fast can blow challenging yachts so much slower. Are our sailors really that much better?

I get an electronic buzz out of telephone operators talking to one another about a mystery, such as why the customer got a recording when he dialed a number the records showed was operating, because she got a recording, too, operator, and one minute, sir, and I'll check and click, thank you, operator, hold the line, I'm cutting out.

"Peyton Place" has me so mixed up in its can of squirming worms that I no longer can distinguish between the women in white unmentionables and the ones in black negligees, if you get the idea.

I am old enough to remember when tax policy was supposed to have justification under rules of equity, even under standards of morality. I think it was better that way than it is now, when the sole aim of publicans is to squeeze taxpayers to death.

Better Learn To Run Before He Walks

VICTOR RIESEL

The Bloody Teamsters Revolt

DETROIT — Baseball bats have been swinging on the open roads as well as inside the big stadiums. But the dull thuds have been the sounds of wood on skulls and trucking rigs. Guns have been fired. Molotov cocktails have burned some heavy haulage equipment. Some drivers are in hospitals. Reports are flowing into the Justice Department in Washington. And there is an uneasiness inside some mightly important sanctums.

Victor Riesel

Unnoticed by the nation, a teamsters rank-and-file revolt has seeped slowly through the country's central steel belt. In rebellion are thousands of unionized truck owner-drivers who haul steel, many of whom are members of Jimmy Hoffa's home Local 299.

So, some mighty disparate forces now are deeply troubled. In executive suites of the big steel companies, high officers are disturbed by the possibility of shutdowns as the truck drivers refuse to go into the mills to pick up heavy deliveries.

Since some 50 to 55 per cent of the country's steel production is hauled to customers in the big trucks, the huge mills could quickly bog down if the finished metal is backlogged and the steel warehouses are jammed.

There could be layoffs if mass picketing or truck drivers' boycotts spread at the plant gates in the areas around Pittsburgh, Cleveland, Gary, Chicago, and other clogged up plants right across Western Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois and Michigan.

REPUBLIC STEEL has moved in the courts. U.S. Steel is reporting "disrupting" impact and a "standstill" of its truck shipments west of Pittsburgh. So the White House suddenly is taking notice. Steel slowdowns, some layoffs and disruption of the swift flow of vital war materials are not exactly what the government needs now that the Ford strike is in a soporific state.

The Justice Department "labor desk" wants to know who is swinging those bats, heaving the cocktails and dumping the rigs.

Not the least concerned is the new "silent man," General Vice President Frank (Fritz) Fitzsimmons of the Teamsters. His reputation is on the line. Perhaps his future, too.

The steel haulers — who rent themselves out to steel freight forwarders — are, in effect, revolting against him. First, "299" is his home local. He still is an officer here. Second, the tens of thousands of owner-driver union members are rebelling against the contract he masterminded earlier this year. This is known as the master freight agreement.

Generally it covers the wildcat strikers though they work under what is called a "commodity supplement" of the master pact.

If Fitz can't get his men back to work; if Fitz can't discipline them before they slow up the steel industry; if Fitz finds the wildcat fever spreading against the agreements in other "commodities", Fitz will become the snickering stock of the massive union and industry.

YET HE IS IN effect helpless to get anything new for his men. They voted in the general referendum which approved the master agreement. The wildcat leaders are saying they would have vetoed it if they had the power to decide over the supplement as a unit. But they were outvoted by the hundreds of thousands of other drivers.

So some three weeks ago — strangely well-organized, surprisingly well-financed — their shadowy organization spreading across four states began refusing to go through the gates. Some did and made it safely. Some did and made it bloodily.

The wildcatters have a heavy roster of demands: ranging from the same fringe benefits as the auto workers to new safety equipment to be supplied by their employers, payment for waiting time in the big mills and an increase in commissions on truck loads.

It will all get noisier and probably more bloody. But it will peter out after a while. Return to normalcy in a few weeks, however, will do "Fitz" little good. He will have been shown to be unable to move as swiftly and firmly against the rebels as Hoffa would have — and he will face other revolts. His image will be blurred again. His vice presidents will get tougher and the underground move to dump him as the next convention — or sooner — will grow stronger.

The big brotherhood will be up for grabs while Jimmy Hoffa — grimly mashing mattresses in Lewisburg prison — and his friends sigh for the good old days of his strong hand.

And they say that "this is Fitz' big test in the big leagues. A few more such strikes and he's out of the game."

Letter To The Editor

EDITOR OF THE REVIEW:

In the past few years much has been said on Capitol Hill and over the country as to the many freedoms American people enjoy and take more or less for granted. One of the most important freedoms to me and thousands of sportsmen is the now precarious right to own and use firearms.

Not so long ago a bill was introduced in Massachusetts to require all guns to be stored in the state armory. If you wanted to go hunting, you checked your gun out in the morning and checked it back in at night. Whoever dreamed this up must have meant it as a joke or they were plain simple.

It would have been interesting to see if criminals would have joined the law-abiding citizens and turned in their guns also. You know they wouldn't have. The bill luckily died in committee.

This is an obvious example of bad legislation. Figures from the police in Washington, D. C., show that they only issued 30 gun permits last year. However, they seized 5,000 guns carried illegally by criminals. Most of the guns had also been obtained illegally. So, you see, by making the honest person "hang up his guns" legislators will only be causing more harm than good.

To insure the future of hunting and shooting in America, sportsmen must take a more active interest in pending legislation and let their congressmen know their feelings.

All sportsmen are in favor of good gun laws. Almost all want tighter control of mail order guns.

If you remember back in June, it took the Israeli army about three days to blitz its way through stronger Arab legions. One of the reasons for this great victory by the tiny Israeli state was because they have a civilian training program stressing marksmanship and discipline. A program not unlike the one sponsored by the National Rifle Association.

Yet even when legislators had been told that this program was a prime factor in Israeli victory they called for the cancellation of Defense Department support of the National Rifle Matches in late August.

Sen. Edward Kennedy, brother of the late slain President John F. Kennedy, called for cancellation of the National Rifle Matches at Camp Perry, Ohio. He proposed that the camp be used as a summer camp for underprivileged youths.

This was a very emotional appeal; but the Army had to inform the senator that the camp was owned by the state of Ohio over which at this time, he has no power.

These same legislators are trying to do exactly what they have sent 525 thousand men to Viet Nam to stop.

Communist organizations were some of the first to jump on the anti - gun band wagon.

This present course being followed by some of our narrow - minded leaders is chipping away at our precious liberties. The gun issue is only a start, but where will it lead. I imagine that there are several governments anxiously waiting for Americans to give up their guns and to quit fighting for freedom.

There is violence in the world, but don't blame it on the gun alone. Please don't punish the American people by taking away one of the greatest sports we have ever known.

Shorter War?

President Johnson at last has recognized the wisdom of the unanimous recommendation by the Joint Chiefs of Staff, urging that the Haiphong area be bombed so weapons and supplies brought in by ship would pile up at the port and could not readily be transported by rail and highway into South Vietnam.

The puzzle is why the decision was so long in coming.

Members of the Senate Armed Services Committee have exposed to public view the facts about the military attitude, but much of this was recently deprecated by Secreatary of Defense McNamara.

The President finally had to step in, examine both sides of the argument and issue the order which has just been put into operation.

The country may well wonder why there has to be such a delay in taking action that military men, on the basis of their long experience and training, earnestly endorse.

RECENTLY, it has been apparent that the President as commander-in-chief has been, in effect, depending on the secretary of defense to make decisions strictly of a military nature. The argument was advanced that there were risks involved and that these were related to "policy considerations."

If it had not been for the courage of members of the Senate Armed Services Committee, the change which has just been made in military policy might not have developed.

The Joint Chiefs of Staff testified in closed sessions nearly four weeks ago. The Senate committee was restive and wanted to see the matter clarified.

But the testimony of the military chiefs wasn't released by the Defense Department. The Senate committee, therefore, issued its own analysis.

In publishing its conclusions, the committee indicated plainly that if the statements of the Joint Chiefs were made public, these would support the senatorial views. There was no option left to the President but to order the testimony cleared for publication.

The American people will soon learn in detail just what the Joint Chiefs did recommend at the reasons they gave for requesting action to paralyze the port of Haiphong.

In the latest bombings, pilots from naval carriers have smashed railroad yards and major warehouse areas, demolished rail and highway bridges and thus delayed for a long time movement by land of supplies out of Haiphong.

The argument hitherto offered was that the bombing of Haiphong might possible cause damage to Soviet, Chinese and other foreign ships. Efforts still are being made to avoid this, but in wartime it is strange to find such concern about enemy ships.

THERE IS NO question about the military aid being furnished by Red China and the Soviet Union to the North Vietnamese.

The question may well be asked whether the American people have understood the far-reaching power of "civilian control."

It has been obvious for many weeks that restrictions had been put on the military, but not until it was disclosed that certain targets had been tabooed did it become known that there had actually been interference with military operations.

Up until now it has been believed that peace negotiations could be brought about if the military forces of the United States exercised restraint. But since there has not been the slightest sign from Hanoi that there would be peace parleys, it has become evident that only if the United States presses the war and bombs all targets would the North Vietnamese see they couldn't possibly win. Damage would continue to be so great that it would be unwise for Hanoi to shun a peace conference any longer.

While "civilian control" is theoretically important, it can be costly when it interfered with fighting a war and causes the loss of the lives of many Americans as well as the drafting of tens of thousands more young men to go to Vietnam.

Debate now centers on the question of whether the war could have been shortened if the advice of the American military chiefs had been heeded.

McNamara Star Falling?

Discussion of a possible rift between President Johnson and Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara sheds a little more light on one of the most controversial men of this decade.

Robert S. McNamara has been embroiled in one controversy after another since giving up his more than $400,000 anuual income as president of Ford Motor Co. to accept the $25,-000-a-year post of secretary of defense at the request of John F. Kennedy.

When President-elect Kennedy announced McNamara's nomination in December of 1960, the nominee divested himself of Ford stock and options that were to cost him millions in profits.

Both President Kennedy and President Johnson were impressed with his keen analytical mind and business ability.

Yet, he has become the favorite whipping boy for columnists, broadcasters and administration critics because of his judgements.

Vietnam has been the most disastrous judgment area, with the all-purpose F-111 combat plane close behind.

The missing link so far as the public is concerned is whether McNamara was calling the shots or was merely a scapegoat for administration boners.

There is no way for the public to know enough about behind-the-scenes maneuvering to determine if Mr. McNamara is merely an adviser or carries a lot of weight. Some observers feel it has been a McNamara show.

The current dispute over bombing port cities, which Mr. McNamara has opposed and President Johnson apparently overruled, indicates the defense secretary has had a lot of leeway in decision making.

The secretary's press office says there is no disagreement in general between Mr. McNamara and President Johnson.

If the dispute does signal a downward direction for Mr. McNamara's star, it would be pure irony.

For Secretary McNamara has more supporters back of his stand that port bombing could enlarge the war than for any policy he has proposed in the last several months.

A Visit From The Future

The 21st Century has visited in the tri-state area for the second time.

It first appeared in 1957 when the nuclear power plant began producing electricity at the Shippingport facility of Duquesne Light Co.

It appeared again in July when the new plant of the Globe Refractories, Inc., began pressing, stacking and firing brick with programmed, electronic control.

A world of automated industry geared to nuclear power becomes more of a reality each day, and will be commonplace in many areas of the United States before even the 1980's.

The Crucible Steel Co. continuing casting plant, when completed, will be another visit from the future, when the process of changing ore into treated and shaped metal forms will be an uninterrupted flow through machines and furnaces operated by pre-set controls.

Automation, as have all successful innovations in history, has proven itself a benefit to the economy — and to mankind — not a job robber, but a spur for new employment, greater production, broader markets and more leisure time.

Businesses and industries which do not take advantage of these modern techniques will find themselves losing out in competition, failing to realize for themselves the full potential of the future.

Frog Legs And Winter Wheat

All of us looking ahead to the universal experiences bound to come with interplanetary travel are fascinated by a report on Biosatellite II spacecraft.

Wheat plants the spacecraft carried into orbit grew a third faster in a weighless environment. Frog eggs, on the other hand, seem not to have been affected. The wheat plants fascinate us.

When cell reproduction, earth-style, has peopled this planet with so many bipeds there is no room left for crops, we can lob next year's wheat crop into outer space and get it back in a few weeks, ready for the bread bakers.

Wheat farmers will be independent of weather and pests. The government will be the only agency licensed to put things into space, so there will be no more hanky-panky with wheat acreage allotments.

An apparently negative effect on frog eggs propelled into orbit does not worry us. Frogs grow fast enough to take care of all reasonable needs now. There is no hurry about growing more.

But lobbing seeds into orbit for a quick crop — that would be as sensational as these suitcase slickers who planted wheat in Kansas for no earthly reason but to collect a federal subsidy.

Eventually, Why Not Now?

Ohio's new requirement about color photographs for driver licenses after Jan. 1, 1969, should be good news for people other than photographers and photographic suppliers.

These people stand to reap a long-running harvest of commercial benefit. Their happiness must be obvious to one and all.

Color photos of bearers of driver licenses also will bring smiles to tavern owners, who now have no way of chopping down juvenile cheats who "borrow" driver licenses of older persons to buy drinks illegally.

In fact, everybody who relies on a driver license for identification has reason to be happy about an accompanying photograph, even if it looks like the traditional passport photo which is, of course, exactly what it will look like.

Indirection, the addition of one more bureaucratic burden to bear will hasten the coming day when each citizen will carry one master identification card that will comprise everything — his birth certificate, Social Security, draft status, credit rating, next of kin, insurance agency, academic qualifications, not to mention his lifetime identification number.

The card will be each citizen's most precious possession. It will bear the owner's lifetime identification number, meaning it must correspond with a number tattooed on the inside of his upper lip to be valid.

Eventually, why not now?

Purely Personal Observations

Don't worry about school girls who squirm and hop around while waiting for the school bus. They aren't fighting wasps—just practicing to be cheerleaders.

Not being seaworthy, I cannot understand how the same wind that blows our America's Cup defenders so fast can blow challenging yachts so much slower. Are our sailors really that much better?

I get an electronic buzz out of telephone operators talking to one another about a mystery, such as why the customer got a recording when he dialed a number the records showed was operating, because she got a recording, too, operator, and one minute, sir, and I'll check and click, thank you, operator, hold the line, I'm cutting out.

"Peyton Place" has me so mixed up in its can of squirming worms that I no longer can distinguish between the women in white unmentionables and the ones in black negligees, if you get the idea.

I am old enough to remember when tax policy was supposed to have justification under rules of equity, even under standards of morality. I think it was better that way than it is now, when the sole aim of publicans is to squeeze taxpayers to death.

Better Learn To Run Before He Walks

VICTOR RIESEL

The Bloody Teamsters Revolt

DETROIT — Baseball bats have been swinging on the open roads as well as inside the big stadiums. But the dull thuds have been the sounds of wood on skulls and trucking rigs. Guns have been fired. Molotov cocktails have burned some heavy haulage equipment. Some drivers are in hospitals. Reports are flowing into the Justice Department in Washington. And there is an uneasiness inside some mightly important sanctums.

Victor Riesel

Unnoticed by the nation, a teamsters rank-and-file revolt has seeped slowly through the country's central steel belt. In rebellion are thousands of unionized truck owner-drivers who haul steel, many of whom are members of Jimmy Hoffa's home Local 299.

So, some mighty disparate forces now are deeply troubled. In executive suites of the big steel companies, high officers are disturbed by the possibility of shutdowns as the truck drivers refuse to go into the mills to pick up heavy deliveries.

Since some 50 to 55 per cent of the country's steel production is hauled to customers in the big trucks, the huge mills could quickly bog down if the finished metal is backlogged and the steel warehouses are jammed.

There could be layoffs if mass picketing or truck drivers' boycotts spread at the plant gates in the areas around Pittsburgh, Cleveland, Gary, Chicago, and other clogged up plants right across Western Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois and Michigan.

REPUBLIC STEEL has moved in the courts. U.S. Steel is reporting "disrupting" impact and a "standstill" of its truck shipments west of Pittsburgh. So the White House suddenly is taking notice. Steel slowdowns, some layoffs and disruption of the swift flow of vital war materials are not exactly what the government needs now that the Ford strike is in a soporific state.

The Justice Department "labor desk" wants to know who is swinging those bats, heaving the cocktails and dumping the rigs.

Not the least concerned is the new "silent man," General Vice President Frank (Fritz) Fitzsimmons of the Teamsters. His reputation is on the line. Perhaps his future, too.

The steel haulers — who rent themselves out to steel freight forwarders — are, in effect, revolting against him. First, "299" is his home local. He still is an officer here. Second, the tens of thousands of owner-driver union members are rebelling against the contract he masterminded earlier this year. This is known as the master freight agreement.

Generally it covers the wildcat strikers though they work under what is called a "commodity supplement" of the master pact.

If Fitz can't get his men back to work; if Fitz can't discipline them before they slow up the steel industry; if Fitz finds the wildcat fever spreading against the agreements in other "commodities", Fitz will become the snickering stock of the massive union and industry.

YET HE IS IN effect helpless to get anything new for his men. They voted in the general referendum which approved the master agreement. Sue Ellen Vinovich Weds Louis Taddy Of Ambridge

A gown of delustered satin peau de soie was chosen by Miss Sue Ellen Vinovich for her wedding to Louis B. (Butch) Taddy of Ambridge Saturday at 2 p. m. at a Nuptial High Mass at Midland's Presentation Catholic Church.

The bride is the daughter of Midland Borough Council President and Mrs. William Vinovich. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Estelle Taddy and Louis Taddy of Ambridge.

The Rev. Walter Sobon officiated at the double ring ceremony before an altar banked with ferns and decorated with baskets of white gladiola and chrysanthemums. The family pews were marked with white satin bows and springarye ivy.

The bride placed a bouquet of white flowers at the foot of the Blessed Virgin Mother.

Andrea Genevieve of Rochester was the organist and soloist for the Mass.

The bride's floor - length gown accented with alencon lace, seed pearls and crystal, was fashioned with a scoop neckline, long fitted sleeves, empire bodice, and sheath skirt with a scalloped hem. A detachable chapel length train was attached at the shoulders.

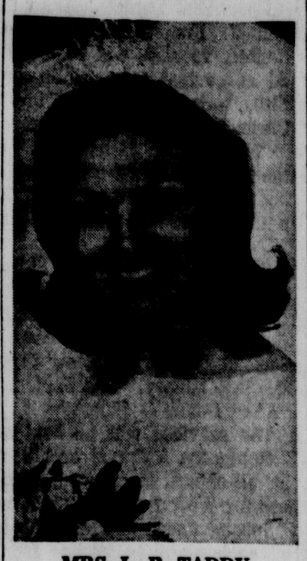

Her butterfly bubble veil of pure silk illusion was held in place by a two tiered Swedish crystal princess crown. She carried a bouquet of white roses and ivy.

In observing customary wedding traditions, the bride wore in her shoe a sixpence brought from Europe by her bridesmaid, Cathy Petrush. She carried a crystal rosary borrowed from her sister, Mrs. Edward Colonna, in a white beaded purse given to her by her mother. The rosary had been carried by her sister at her wedding. She carried a white handkerchief given her by Mrs. Charles Scalera, a friend of the family, and wore a blue garter, the gift of Mrs. Steve Daniels, a friend.

The maid of honor was Miss Diana Baum, cousin of the bride. Miss Petrush, Marilyn Taddy, sister of the bridegroom, and Marsha Kosanovich were bridesmaids. Mechille Colonna, niece of the bride, was the flower girl. All were attired identically in floor - length fitted dresses in shocking pink crepe with cage-style overdresses of pink chiffon fashioned with indented necklines and long sleeves. Each carried a bouquet of shocking pink roses and carnations mixed with stephanotis and ivy and trimmed with plum-colored velvet ribbon.

Gifts of the bride to her attendants were charms and earrings. She presented a birthstone ring to the flower girl.

Andy Senkovich was the best man. The ushers were Allen Stevens, Joe DeVincent and Edward Liberatore. Each received matching tie pins and cufflinks from the bridegroom. The ringbearer was William Vinovich III, nephew of the bride, and a corsage of white orchids. The bridegroom's mother was attired in a dress of green silk with green accessories and a corsage of white orchids.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. — How can I cope with the top of a fingernail polish bottle when it stubbornly refuses to budge?

A. — Turn the bottle upside down and put a drop or two of fingernail polish remover around the edges of the cap, let stand for a few seconds, then turn the bottle right side up, and the cap will usually turn right off.

Q. — What is an easy way to remove decals without damage to the finish underneath them?

A. — Cover the decals with a wet washcloth, then press a hot iron over the cloth. Within a few minutes the steam will soften up the old decal to permit its easy removal.

Q. — What can I use instead of fat for frying foods?

A. — Fat is not absolutely necessary; merely rub the pan with common table salt, then shake out, and place the meat to be fried in the pan.

Q. — How can I remove crayon stains from washable materials?

A. — By sponging with carbon tetrachloride or other cleaning fluid. Use hot water and soap for cottons and linens, warm for silks and rayons. If traces still remain after the fabric has dried, sponge with denatured alcohol, diluting the alcohol with two parts of water for use on rayons or colored fabrics. Javelle water can be used as a last resort on cottons, linens, and rayons.

Q. — How can I remedy the drooping of a straw hat at the brim?

A. — The hat can be stiffened by sponging with the white of an egg that has been thoroughly beaten; then place on a hat stand to dry.

A MOMENT OF MEDITATION

WORSHIP IN TRUTH

In recent articles we have been discussing some of the basic things that are a part of the plea of Churches of Christ. Today we would like to notice with you the plea of Christ for all men to worship God according to the will of God.

Many people are doing many different things in their efforts to worship God. Does God give us this right of diversion? Does God want all men to worship Him in the same way? The answer to these questions can be found in this statement of Jesus in Jno. 4:24. "God is a Spirit: and they that worship Him must worship Him in spirit and in truth." In this statement Jesus states that all must worship God in "truth". Notice Jno. 17: 17. "Sanctify them through thy truth: thy word is truth." In these verses we learn that the word of God is truth. Thus it is evident that God wants us to worship Him according to truth or according to the word of God. God has not given to us the right to choose what we want to do in worship of Him, but He has given specific commands in His word in regard to worship. The many differences that exist in the worship of religious people today, just makes it clear that many have not been content to follow God's revealed Will.

If we practice a thing in our worship, we should be able to go to the word of God or the Bible and show by the scriptures that God has authorized it. If we are not able to give proof from God's word that God wants us to do it, we ought to abandon the practice.

Yes, it is our plea that all men worship God according to the things we find revealed in the Bible. God has not given us the right to do just anything we want to do.

There are five things that we read that the early disciples did in their worship to God. These are the same things that God has authorized for us to be doing today. The Bible teaches that we are to pray to God through Jesus Christ. Col. 3:17. We are to take of the Lord's Supper on the first day of the week. Acts 20:7. We are to sing and make melody in our hearts to the Lord. Eph. 5:19. The early disciples sang without the use of a mechanical instrument of music. Acts 16:25. We are to give according to our prosperity on the first day of the week. 1 Cor. 16: 1 - 2. The early church did not use suppers, sales, raffles and like schemes to raise money for the church. The Bible also authorizes preaching or teaching of the word of God. Acts 20:7.

Does the above description sound like the worship you engage in? Do you have Bible proof for all you do in worship? Worship unto God must be according to the revealed word of God.

You are invited to attend the services of the Church of Christ tomorrow.

Witnesses Slate Area Convention

Walter B. Wissman of world headquarters in Brooklyn will be the featured speaker during a meeting of Jehovah's Witnesses in Struthers Oct. 6-8.

He has served in the full-time ministry since 1942 and is now supervising the work of Witnesses in Eastern Ohio and Western Pennsylvania.

Wissman will speak Oct. 8, on the subject, "Will God Intervene in Men's Affairs?"

The convention will be held in the Struthers fieldhouse. Upward of 1,400 delegates from Northeastern Ohio are expected to attend the sessions.

Emerson Booth, presiding minister of the local congregation, said the assembly is not a revival, but is held primarily to advance Christian Bible education.

The three-day program will include a variety of talks on various Bible subjects. Groups of ministers will discuss ministerial problems and demonstrations will teach Bible studies. Sessions will be conducted during the entire day, with a baptism of new ministers scheduled for Saturday afternoon.

The convention's theme is "Walking Orderly By Spirit."

Lutheran Rally Set Sept. 22-24

A Lutheran Men's retreat will be held Sept. 22-24 at Camp Mowana, near Mansfield. The Rev. George C. Reese, leader, said it will be combined with a Lutheran Church Men of Ohio convention.

"How the World Sees the Church" will be the theme of the meeting which will begin at 9 p.m. Sept. 22 and continue until 1:15 p. m. Sept. 24.

Additional information may be obtained by writing Henry Klein of 3101 Muirfield Dr, Toledo. (43614) Sept. 21 is the reservation deadline.

Reception To Be Held For Minister Sunday

A reception will be held Sunday night following services for the Rev. Dean McElroy, newly-named pastor of the Calvary Methodist Church here.

Mrs. Marian Pickens, chairman of the Women's Society of Christian Service, said the reception will begin at the church at approximately 8:30.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. — How can I cope with the top of a fingernail polish bottle when it stubbornly refuses to budge?

A. — Turn the bottle upside down and put a drop or two of fingernail polish remover around the edges of the cap, let stand for a few seconds, then turn the bottle right side up, and the cap will usually turn right off.

Q. — What is an easy way to remove decals without damage to the finish underneath them?

A. — Cover the decals with a wet washcloth, then press a hot iron over the cloth. Within a few minutes the steam will soften up the old decal to permit its easy removal.

Q. — What can I use instead of fat for frying foods?

A. — Fat is not absolutely necessary; merely rub the pan with common table salt, then shake out, and place the meat to be fried in the pan.

Q. — How can I remove crayon stains from washable materials?

A. — By sponging with carbon tetrachloride or other cleaning fluid. Use hot water and soap for cottons and linens, warm for silks and rayons. If traces still remain after the fabric has dried, sponge with denatured alcohol, diluting the alcohol with two parts of water for use on rayons or colored fabrics. Javelle water can be used as a last resort on cottons, linens, and rayons.

Q. — How can I remedy the drooping of a straw hat at the brim?

A. — The hat can be stiffened by sponging with the white of an egg that has been thoroughly beaten; then place on a hat stand to dry.

New Minister Begins Duties

The Rev. Richard E. Phelps has assumed his duties as pastor of the Chestnut Grove Church of the Nazarene, replacing the Rev. Lena Tice.

Rev. Phelps comes to this area from North Pekin, Ill., where he served as a minister. He and his wife are natives of Warren. He was graduated from Eastern Nazarene College in Massachusetts, being ordained in 1953.

He served as pastor of a Pennsylvania church for 14 years before going to Illinois.

Rev. and Mrs. Phelps have three daughters, Mrs. Philip Watson of Kankakee, Ill.; Miss Marilyn Phelps, a sophomore at Stanton Local High School, and Terri Sue Phelps, in the fifth grade.

The family resides on Chestnut Grove Ridge, near Hammondsville.

A MOMENT OF MEDITATION

WORSHIP IN TRUTH

In recent articles we have been discussing some of the basic things that are a part of the plea of Churches of Christ. Today we would like to notice with you the plea of Christ for all men to worship God according to the will of God.

Many people are doing many different things in their efforts to worship God. Does God give us this right of diversion? Does God want all men to worship Him in the same way? The answer to these questions can be found in this statement of Jesus in Jno. 4:24. "God is a Spirit: and they that worship Him must worship Him in spirit and in truth." In this statement Jesus states that all must worship God in "truth". Notice Jno. 17: 17. "Sanctify them through thy truth: thy word is truth." In these verses we learn that the word of God is truth. Thus it is evident that God wants us to worship Him according to truth or according to the word of God. God has not given to us the right to choose what we want to do in worship of Him, but He has given specific commands in His word in regard to worship. The many differences that exist in the worship of religious people today, just makes it clear that many have not been content to follow God's revealed Will.

If we practice a thing in our worship, we should be able to go to the word of God or the Bible and show by the scriptures that God has authorized it. If we are not able to give proof from God's word that God wants us to do it, we ought to abandon the practice.

Yes, it is our plea that all men worship God according to the things we find revealed in the Bible. God has not given us the right to do just anything we want to do.

There are five things that we read that the early disciples did in their worship to God. These are the same things that God has authorized for us to be doing today. The Bible teaches that we are to pray to God through Jesus Christ. Col. 3:17. We are to take of the Lord's Supper on the first day of the week. Acts 20:7. We are to sing and make melody in our hearts to the Lord. Eph. 5:19. The early disciples sang without the use of a mechanical instrument of music. Acts 16:25. We are to give according to our prosperity on the first day of the week. 1 Cor. 16: 1 - 2. The early church did not use suppers, sales, raffles and like schemes to raise money for the church. The Bible also authorizes preaching or teaching of the word of God. Acts 20:7.

Does the above description sound like the worship you engage in? Do you have Bible proof for all you do in worship? Worship unto God must be according to the revealed word of God.

You are invited to attend the services of the Church of Christ tomorrow.

Band Festival To Be Held At Weir Stadium

WEIRTON — Plans are nearing completion for the fifth annual "Cavalcade of Bands," Leo Bradley, general chairman of the event sponsored by the Weir High Band Parents, Inc., has announced.

The cavalcade will be held Sept. 23 at 8 p. m. at Weir High Stadium.

Participating high school bands are:

Honor Band, Washington, Pa.; Steubenville Big Red; Brilliant; Weir Junior High, Oak Glen and Weir High.

The Weirton Termite Majorettes also will perform.

Committee members in addition to Bradley include:

Alden Edwards, William Skiles, Jerry Beagle, Mr. and Mrs. John Dick, Mr. and Mrs. Rudy Strauss, Mrs. Ted Cwizynski, Mrs. Dominic Lancia, Mrs. Jerry Beagle, Frank Sutton and Mrs. Bradley.

Chairmen Named For Projects By PTA At Midland

Committee chairmen were named by Mrs. Marvin Bahm, president, during a meeting of the Parent - Teacher Association of the Midland 4th St. School Thursday afternoon at the school.

Those who will serve for 1967-68 are Mrs. Joseph Roszler and Mrs. Don Willey, Ways and Means; Mrs. Angelo Migliore, Mrs. Sam Postich and Mrs. Marshall Ungetheum, Hospitality; Mrs. Nettie Gottlieb, Parliamentarian; Miss Jean Musser Cultural Arts; Mrs. Newton Wildman, Membership; Mrs. John Adams, Publicity; Mrs. Ross Hurst, Budget and Finance; and Mrs. Homer Fleming, PTA Magazine.

Delegates named to attend County PTA events are Mrs. Bahm, Mrs. Wildman, Mose Perkins, vice president; Nicholas Aloi, fifth grade teacher, Mrs. Gill Clark, and Mr. and Mrs. John Adams.

Other officers are Mrs. Adams, secretary; Mrs. Hurst, treasurer; and Mrs. Clark, historian.

Mrs. Gerturde Bonzo, fifth grade teacher, gave the invocation. Miss Musser, music teacher, led singing of "America." Mrs. Roszler announced a project for the year will be the sale of candy.

"Fall Frolic" will be held Oct. 24 from 6-9 p.m. at the old high school gym. October will be observed as membership month.

Mrs. Bahm announced a PTA convention will be held Oct. 5-6 at Philadelphia and a delegation may attend from Midland.

Robert L. Blinn, elementary principal, introduced the teachers. School Supt. Wilbur P. Dershimer spoke on the elementary program.

Refreshments were served by the hospitality committee. Executive committee board meetings will be held Wednesdays prior to regular PTA meeting. An evening PTA session is set for March, Mrs. Bahm said. The next meeting will be Oct. 12 at 3 p. m. at the school.

4 City Officers To Attend School

The four newest appointees on the East Liverpool police department have been enrolled for a 120-hour course in the Alliance-Stark County Peace Officers' Training School, Chief A. J. Radeschi announced Friday afternoon.

Patrolmen H. Clyde Dillon, James W. Woods, Charles B. Coen and David L. Huffman will begin the study Sept. 25. Classes will be held through Oct. 15, meeting Monday through Friday from 8 a. m. to 4:30 p. m.

The chief pointed out that the 120-hour basic police course is required under Ohio law for all newly - appointed officers.

Classes will meet in the community room of the Alliance Chamber of Commerce. The classes will be presented in cooperation with the Federal Bureau of Investigation and the Ohio Highway Patrol. Chief Donald Cowen of Alliance is school commander. He is a graduate of the FBI National Academy.

Lang Screens Slides During Club Meeting

Lang toured in 1966 with the Mt. Union College Choir, of which he was a member until his graduation in June.

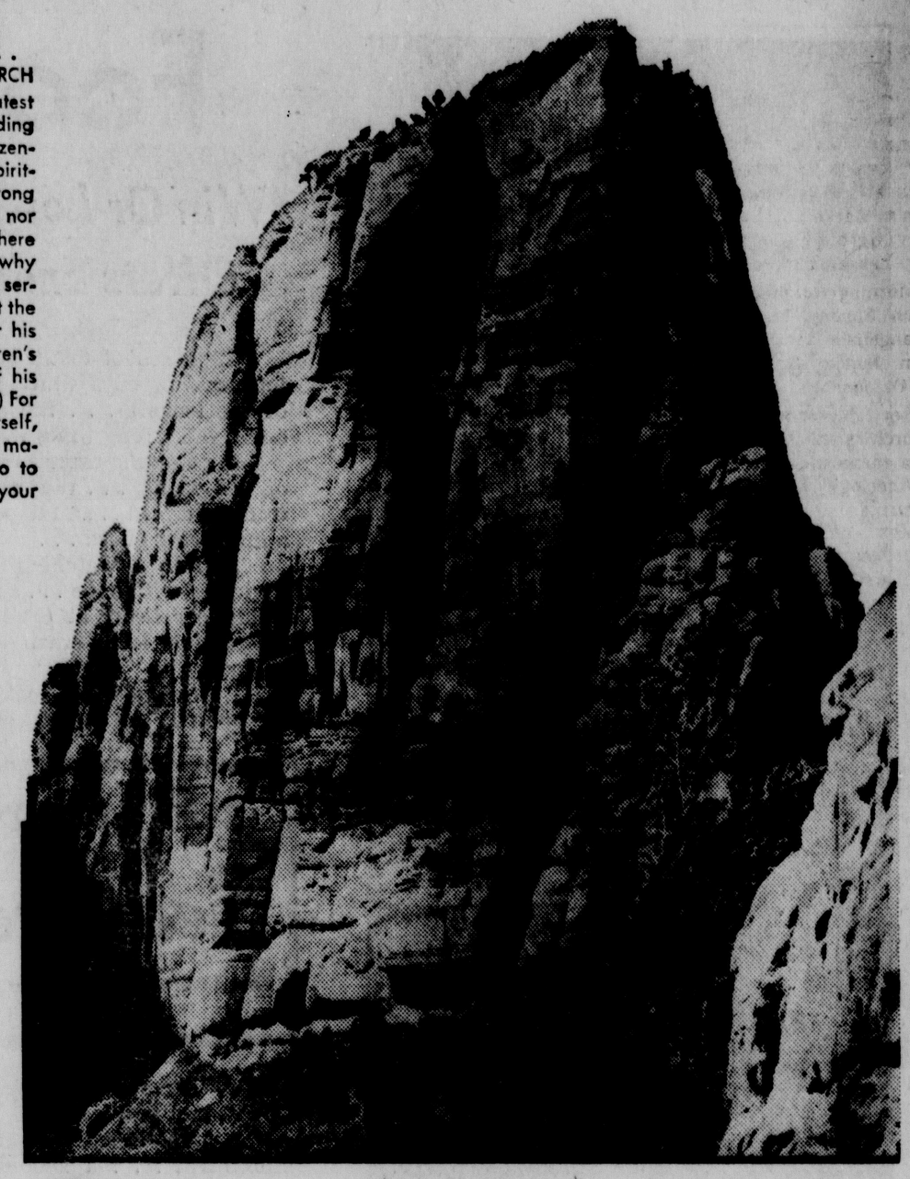

The slide tour consisted of pictures taken from the embarking point through the group's tour of Japan.

Twenty - two attended.

Charles Haugh is president.

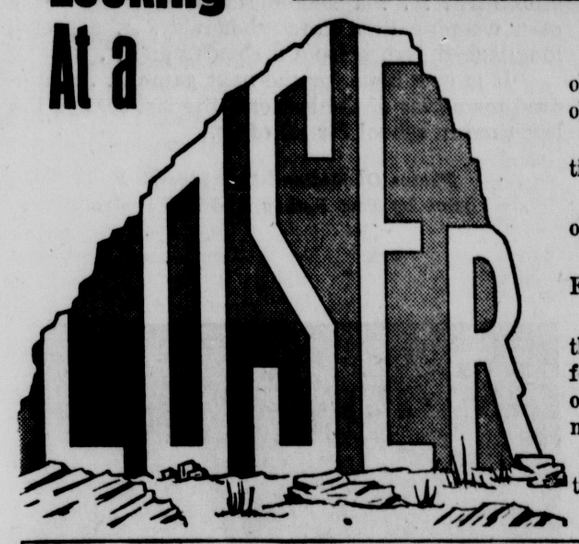

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . .
. . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

You're Looking At a

Here is an example of a one-sided battle! It's that same old battle between the irresistible force and the immovable object.

Study the rounding edges of this massive granite formation. The wind is winning—persuasively and very definitely.

Note the deep clefts where chips have fallen from the old block. Rain, snow, ice are the victors here.

And see the pines growing topside on this barren bulk. Each year their roots press deeper into the hidden faults.

What does this prove? Well, for one thing it shows that the lifeless rock is no match for the moving, living, growing forces in God's creation. So never overestimate the strength of that stubborn secularism that sometimes appears to dominate our world.

In worship and religious pursuit, millions are linking their souls with the vital spiritual forces which shall prevail!

Band Festival To Be Held At Weir Stadium

WEIRTON — Plans are nearing completion for the fifth annual "Cavalcade of Bands," Leo Bradley, general chairman of the event sponsored by the Weir High Band Parents, Inc., has announced.

The cavalcade will be held Sept. 23 at 8 p. m. at Weir High Stadium.

Participating high school bands are:

Honor Band, Washington, Pa.; Steubenville Big Red; Brilliant; Weir Junior High, Oak Glen and Weir High.

The Weirton Termite Majorettes also will perform.

Committee members in addition to Bradley include:

Alden Edwards, William Skiles, Jerry Beagle, Mr. and Mrs. John Dick, Mr. and Mrs. Rudy Strauss, Mrs. Ted Cwizynski, Mrs. Dominic Lancia, Mrs. Jerry Beagle, Frank Sutton and Mrs. Bradley.

Chairmen Named For Projects By PTA At Midland

Committee chairmen were named by Mrs. Marvin Bahm, president, during a meeting of the Parent - Teacher Association of the Midland 4th St. School Thursday afternoon at the school.

Those who will serve for 1967-68 are Mrs. Joseph Roszler and Mrs. Don Willey, Ways and Means; Mrs. Angelo Migliore, Mrs. Sam Postich and Mrs. Marshall Ungetheum, Hospitality; Mrs. Nettie Gottlieb, Parliamentarian; Miss Jean Musser Cultural Arts; Mrs. Newton Wildman, Membership; Mrs. John Adams, Publicity; Mrs. Ross Hurst, Budget and Finance; and Mrs. Homer Fleming, PTA Magazine.

Delegates named to attend County PTA events are Mrs. Bahm, Mrs. Wildman, Mose Perkins, vice president; Nicholas Aloi, fifth grade teacher, Mrs. Gill Clark, and Mr. and Mrs. John Adams.

Other officers are Mrs. Adams, secretary; Mrs. Hurst, treasurer; and Mrs. Clark, historian.

Mrs. Gerturde Bonzo, fifth grade teacher, gave the invocation. Miss Musser, music teacher, led singing of "America." Mrs. Roszler announced a project for the year will be the sale of candy.

"Fall Frolic" will be held Oct. 24 from 6-9 p.m. at the old high school gym. October will be observed as membership month.

Mrs. Bahm announced a PTA convention will be held Oct. 5-6 at Philadelphia and a delegation may attend from Midland.

Robert L. Blinn, elementary principal, introduced the teachers. School Supt. Wilbur P. Dershimer spoke on the elementary program.

Refreshments were served by the hospitality committee. Executive committee board meetings will be held Wednesdays prior to regular PTA meeting. An evening PTA session is set for March, Mrs. Bahm said. The next meeting will be Oct. 12 at 3 p. m. at the school.

4 City Officers To Attend School

The four newest appointees on the East Liverpool police department have been enrolled for a 120-hour course in the Alliance-Stark County Peace Officers' Training School, Chief A. J. Radeschi announced Friday afternoon.

Patrolmen H. Clyde Dillon, James W. Woods, Charles B. Coen and David L. Huffman will begin the study Sept. 25. Classes will be held through Oct. 15, meeting Monday through Friday from 8 a. m. to 4:30 p. m.

The chief pointed out that the 120-hour basic police course is required under Ohio law for all newly - appointed officers.

Classes will meet in the community room of the Alliance Chamber of Commerce. The classes will be presented in cooperation with the Federal Bureau of Investigation and the Ohio Highway Patrol. Chief Donald Cowen of Alliance is school commander. He is a graduate of the FBI National Academy.

Lang Screens Slides During Club Meeting

James R. Lang screened slides of an around - the - World trip during a meeting of the Lions Club Friday noon at the Travelers Hotel.

Lang toured in 1966 with the Mt. Union College Choir, of which he was a member until his graduation in June.

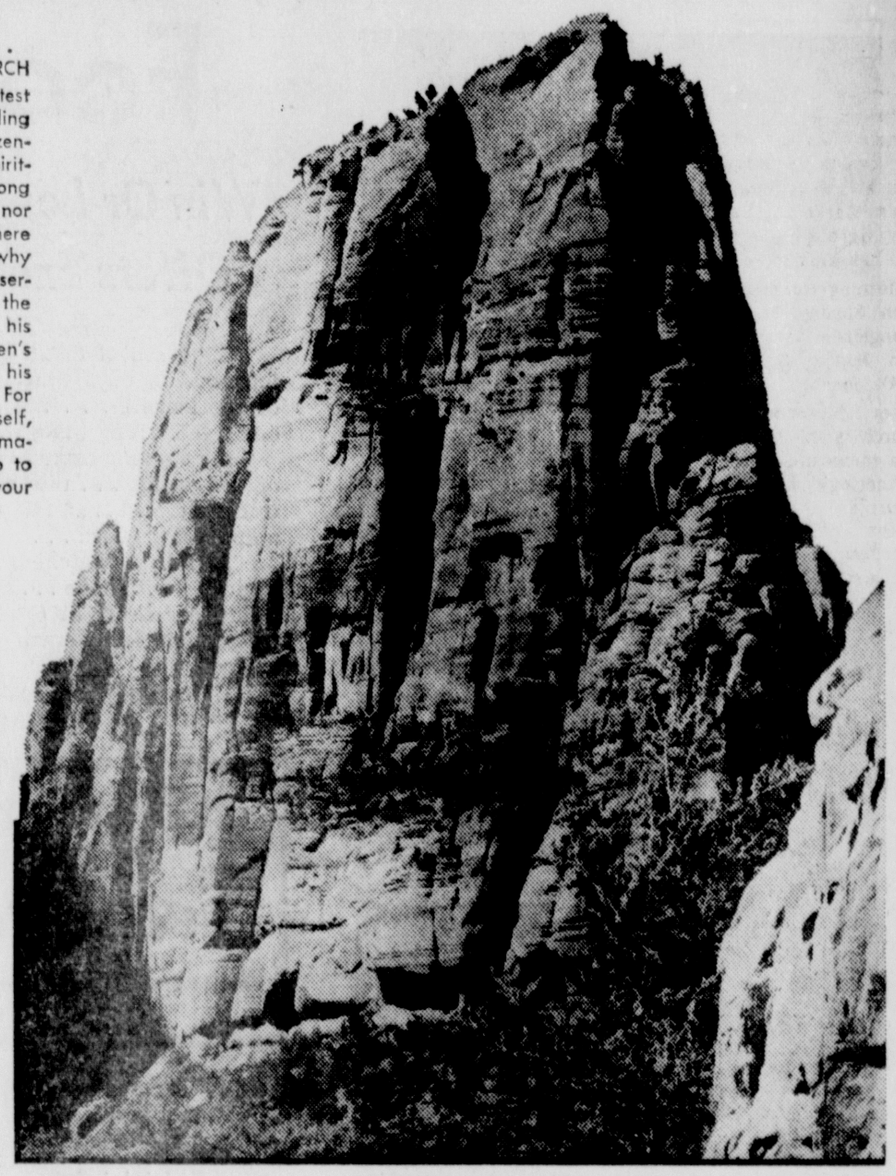

The slide tour consisted of pictures taken from the embarking point through the group's tour of Japan.

Twenty - two attended.

Charles Haugh is president.

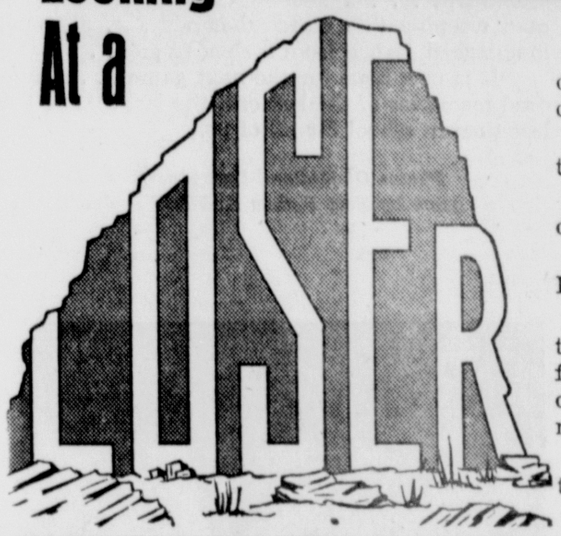

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . .
. . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

You're Looking At a LOSER

Here is an example of a one-sided battle! It's that same old battle between the irresistible force and the immovable object.

Study the rounding edges of this massive granite formation. The wind is winning—persuasively and very definitely.

Note the deep clefts where chips have fallen from the old block. Rain, snow, ice are the victors here.

And see the pines growing topside on this barren bulk. Each year their roots press deeper into the hidden faults.

What does this prove? Well, for one thing it shows that the lifeless rock is no match for the moving, living, growing forces in God's creation. So never overestimate the strength of that stubborn secularism that sometimes appears to dominate our world.

In worship and religious pursuit, millions are linking their souls with the vital spiritual forces which shall prevail!

Win Or Lose, The Game Offers Endless Thrills

High school football is the stomach-twisting tenseness of boys waiting for the hollow thump of the kickoff . . . the sweat-drenching fear of doing the wrong thing . . .

The pounding drums and shattering brass blare of the bands . . . the ear-jamming sound of a frenzied crowd . . . a 140-pound back racing around a lumbering guard . . .

A father watching across the field, eyes squinting with hope . . . a mother with aching fear riding her heart at each play . . . a coach for whom time spins crazily on, keeping reality off balance.

It is gangly end making a shocking catch in the open . . . a burly, confident would-be Green Bay Packer suddenly seeing a throbbing headful of whirling lights as he is hobbled off the turf . . .

A gap-toothed grin and a happy look at the scoreboard . . . a shoulderbent man not yet a man weeping into clutched hands . . . a proud, long-lashed glance from a slender girl . . .

It is new hope for the next game . . . a hundred memories of the last one, the last season, the last time in school for all of us.

Outdoor Notes

Review Staff Member

OHIO's SQUIRREL season came in last week, but with not much of a bang in Columbiana County.

Hunting pressure was only "moderate" on opening day, and rainy weather kept many hunters out of the woods last Saturday.

In a opening day field check conducted by Ralph Drake, county game protector, the average was one squirrel per man for each three hours in the field.

The late spring frost apparently killed much of the mast in the area and in some places there are no nuts. If you can find feed, you will find squirrels. The frost kill a year ago also cut down the winter carryover of squirrels.

But according to reports I have received, hunting in this area is much better than it is in many places "down the river."

One group of local hunters traveled to Pomeroy, hunted all day and never got a squirrel.

Squirrels have just started cutting hickory nuts in many places as the mast still is green. They have been cutting acorns and pignuts. There is some beech mast, but it is spotty.

HUNTERS SHOULD use extreme caution in the woods. There seems to be an abundance of underbrush in many areas, and few leaves have started falling from the trees. Make sure of your target before you shoot.

Dress conspiciously so you are not to be mistaken for game by other hunters. After you have made a kill, be sure it is put away out of sight. This is doubly important during squirrel season, because sitting behind a tree with a bushy tail fluttering from a coat pocket can make a fine target for another hunter.

Don't let hunting accidents spoil your fun. Make sure your gun is in good working order. Check your shells before you leave home and make sure they are the correct size to fit your gun.

I had a squirrel pass directly over my head in a steep hollow last Saturday but couldn't even see to shoot. I could hear it and see some limbs move now and then, but it was just too thick to risk a shot. Although it might have been safe to shoot so far as other hunters in the area, I did not want to take a chance on just wounding the squirrel and having him crawl away somewhere to die.

Another important fact to remember is to make sure you have your license with you.

Don't forget to ask the landowner for permission to hunt on his land. There have been a few minor complaints of this already this year and the hunting season is young.

It only takes a minute to ask a farmer if it is okay to hunt. Check with him on where his stock is located. Most farmers don't mind letting hunters on their land, but they do like to know they are there.

BASS FISHING should be on the upswing this month. Field reports show hardnosed fishermen are landing some lunkers in area lakes.

Bass have started feeding on minnows in Beaver Creek. All indications point to a very good spawn of smallmouths in the creek the past two years.

The bass are there and now is a good time to go after them.

As a suggestion, make it a dual outing. Go hunting in the early morning. Break for a snack and then go fishing.

BY WAY OF THE GRAPEVINE, There is all indication the Ohio Division of Wildlife is readying a stepped up program of fish management.

An announcement should be forthcoming in the near future on plans. The state promised new and improved programs when it was asking for a hike in fishing and hunting license fees.

A TOTAL OF 121 POLLUTION cases have been investigated in Pennsylvania since the beginning of the year and to date, 61 of the cases have been closed with $12,513 added to the fish fund.

Several of the unsettled cases have been turned over to the Sanitary Water Board of the Department of Health for legal action. The remaining cases are under further investigation or litigation.

Sportsmen played a big part in reporting pollutions and providing officers with helpful information.

RED WORMS AGAIN. Several anglers are reporting red worms in Lake Erie perch. The small, thread-like worms are a parasite.

They will not infect humans and are not considered harmful to human health if the fish are well cooked.

The worm does not harm the ability of the fish to survive or impair normal life activities.

This parasite is found mostly during the summer, although they can be found in fish caught during the winter.

FISHING SHOULD be excellent in West Virginia this weekend, the Natural Resources Department predicts.

The department said the only thing that could dampen this prospect would be rain since smallmouth bass and catfish have started their fall feeding season.

Most streams in the state are clear and normal.

THE LISBON AREA COON Hunters Club will hold a fall festival event next Saturday.

The program includes water races, field trials and dog and gun auctions. Harley Huffman of Lisbon RD 4 is secretary, and further information can be obtained by contacting him.

WITH THE FALL season nearing, trees soon will be changing color and many persons will be making trips to see the beauty provided by nature.

One place to visit is the Wildflower Reserve operated by the Western Pennsylvania Conservancy off Route 18 in Raccoon Township.

The area is open to the public daily from 10 a.m. to sunset, except Mondays. It also remains open during the winter.

Roger Latham of Pittsburgh, an outdoors writer and lecturer, will give a talk on natural history of the Arctic at the reserve Oct. 27 at 7:30 p.m.

Penney, 92, Eyes Century Mark

James Cash Penney, founder of the J. C. Penney Co. chain of stores across the U.S., today observed his 92nd birthday anniversary, still busy with many of the projects which have drawn his interest all his life.

Penney, born on a farm in Missouri, has an office in the 45-story Penney Building in New York, and although he has not been directly involved in management of the store chain for some years, is still a director.

He operates a farm in upstate New York with an outstanding herd of purebred Angus cattle, and maintains heavy correspondence with friends and business acquaintances throughout the country.

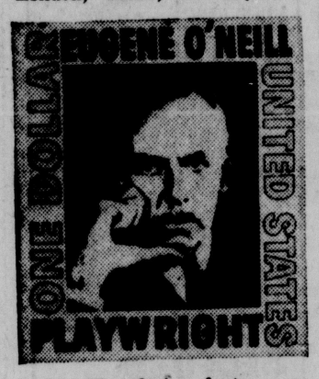

He also continues to visit occasionally some of the nearly 1,700 Penney stores in the nation.

On his birthday anniversary, the nonagenarian looks forward to observing his 100th anniversary with confidence.

Stamps In The News

Eugene O'Neill, winner of four Pulitzer Prizes and a Nobel Prize for literature, will be the first American playwright to be honored with a U.S. stamp.

The $1 O'Neill stamp, of the "Prominent Americans" series will be issued Oct. 16 at New London, Conn., his boyhood home. The design features a portrait of O'Neill based on a photograph which captures his characteristic brooding mood. The stamps will be printed in dark purple.

Across the top of the verticle stamp is "Eugene O'Neill." In the same type beneath the photo is "Playwright."

O'Neill was born Oct. 16, 1888, in New York — 79 years prior to the issuance of his special stamp. He died in Boston Nov. 27, 1953.

Collectors desiring first-day cancellations may send addressed envelopes, together with remittance to cover the cost of the stamps to be affixed, to the Postmaster, New London, Conn. 06320. The envelope to the postmaster should be endorsed "First Day Covers Eugene O'Neill Stamp."

Requests must be postmarkno later than Oct. 16.

THIS YEAR'S ASDA (American Stamp Dealers' Association) Postage Stamp Show to be held Nov. 17-19 in New York will be a special treat for first-day cover collectors.

The show will feature first day sales of three new issues.

One will be a new U.S. 5-cent regular postage stamp, a 5-cent United Nations commemorative showing a motif from a stained glass window by Marc Chagall, and a special U.N. art presentation sheet of six 5-cent stamps that combine to show the entire Chagall window.

THE ISRAELI Ministry of Posts has announced it has released a set of 12 envelopes with official post office cancellations from occupied territories.

According to word from the Israel Philatelic Agency in New York, the envelopes have cancellations from the following cities — Jerusalem, Jericho, Gaza, Bethlehem, Hebron, Ramalla, Nablus, Jenin, Tul Karm, Rafiah, Kahn Yunis and Deir el Balah.

Each of the 12 envelopes is affixed with a 15-agorot definitive stamp, the official seal of the Ministry of Posts, plus the cancellation. The cancellations have the names of the cities inscribed in Hebrew, English and Arabic. All, except the Jerusalem cancellation, include the word "ZAHAL" — the Hebrew name of the Israel Defense Forces.

This unusual set of envelopes is available at your local stamp dealer or you may write directly to the Israel Philatelic Agency in America, 116 W. 32nd St., New York, N. Y. 10001.

AUSTRALIA will issue a 4-cent postage stamp to mark the fifth World Congress of Gynecology and Obstetrics scheduled for Sydney University. Alan Hulme, Australian postmaster general, said the stamp is also being issued in recognition of the special importance of gynecology and obstetrics in modern medicine.

You And The Law

"We the people of the United States, in order to form a more perfect Union, establish justice, insure domestic tranquillity, provide for the common defence, promote the general welfare, and secure the blessings of liberty to our selves and our posterity, do ordain and establish this Constitution for the United States of America."

Thus begins the Constitution of the United States which has stood the test of 180 years. The convention which framed the preamble and the first seven articles completed its work Sept. 17, 1787. In honor of this, the week of Sept. 17 has been set aside as "Constitution Week" by presidential proclamation and the day of Sept. 17 proclaimed "Citizenship Day."

OURS IS the oldest federal constitution in existence. The United States was in its 12th year of independence when the Constitution was drafted.

Attending the convention in Philadelphia, headed by George Washington, were delegates from 12 of the 13 original states. Rhode Island was not represented.

Upon completion of the draft, copies of it were sent to all 13 states for ratification. It was to become effective when ratified by nine states.

Delaware was the first state to ratify the Constituion on Dec. 7, 1787. On June 21, 1788, New Hampshire became the ninth state to ratify. The Constitution then went into effect the first Wednesday in March, 1789.

The Constitution has been amended 24 times. The first 10 amendments are commonly known as the Bill of Rights. This group of amendments was proposed by the First Congress and became effective Dec. 15, 1791.

The latest amendment was effective Jan. 23, 1964. It makes unconstitutional the payment of any poll tax or other taxes as a prerequisite for voting in a federal election.

The old things are passed away.—(II Cor. 5:17)

Let us consciously let go the past; let us think of old thoughts and old conditions as waters that have passed away. Let us live in the present and utilize and express the wonderful God powers and capabilities that are ours. We can bless the past and let it go. It has served its purpose. Our purpose now is to live in God's wonderful present.

BARBS

By Walter C. Parkes

What in the world did they do with all those sunflower seeds before someone invented a bird feeder?

After casting our eye over the office personnel, it suddenly becomes evident that all old fossils aren't in museums.

A poor sport is one who bet his pay check on the nag that came in last.

Considering the leaks, cracked floor, sagging beams and tired wiring, we'd say ours is the original "bargain" basement.

A clean desk may be the sign of a tidy mind, but it's comforting to recall that the most of nothing is found in a vacuum.

If you want to cause utter consternation, stop far enough from the red light to let a side - street motorist into traffic.

A Yummy Plum Harvest

Amy Pugh, 9, of Chester is shown sampling some marmalade made by Mrs. Samuel Livezey, left, from a 30-year-old plum tree which this year yielded 21 pecks.

Mr. and Mrs. Livezey of 161 Carolina Ave. consider themselves fortunate to have the yummy yield this year, for the annual harvest ranges from zero in 1963 to a record 26 pecks of the blue damzel variety the following year.

The 20-foot high tree, which has a trunk circumference of 2 feet 7 inches, also produced 21 pecks in 1957.

Mrs. Livezey, a buyer in the housewares department of the D. M. Ogilvie & Co. store for 49 years, sells the tart fruit to area markets, gives it to friends or makes plum marmalade. Her husband is a parttime employe of the Frank Crook Co. where he retired four years ago.

Outdoor Notes

Review Staff Member

OHIO's SQUIRREL season came in last week, but with not much of a bang in Columbiana County.

Hunting pressure was only "moderate" on opening day, and rainy weather kept many hunters out of the woods last Saturday.

In a opening day field check conducted by Ralph Drake, county game protector, the average was one squirrel per man for each three hours in the field.

The late spring frost apparently killed much of the mast in the area and in some places there are no nuts. If you can find feed, you will find squirrels. The frost kill a year ago also cut down the winter carryover of squirrels.

But according to reports I have received, hunting in this area is much better than it is in many places "down the river."

One group of local hunters traveled to Pomeroy, hunted all day and never got a squirrel.

Squirrels have just started cutting hickory nuts in many places as the mast still is green. They have been cutting acorns and pignuts. There is some beech mast, but it is spotty.

HUNTERS SHOULD use extreme caution in the woods. There seems to be an abundance of underbrush in many areas, and few leaves have started falling from the trees. Make sure of your target before you shoot.

Dress conspiciously so you are not to be mistaken for game by other hunters. After you have made a kill, be sure it is put away out of sight. This is doubly important during squirrel season, because sitting behind a tree with a bushy tail fluttering from a coat pocket can make a fine target for another hunter.

Don't let hunting accidents spoil your fun. Make sure your gun is in good working order. Check your shells before you leave home and make sure they are the correct size to fit your gun.

I had a squirrel pass directly over my head in a steep hollow last Saturday but couldn't even see to shoot. I could hear it and see some limbs move now and then, but it was just too thick to risk a shot. Although it might have been safe to shoot so far as other hunters in the area, I did not want to take a chance on just wounding the squirrel and having him crawl away somewhere to die.

Another important fact to remember is to make sure you have your license with you.

Don't forget to ask the landowner for permission to hunt on his land. There have been a few minor complaints of this already this year and the hunting season is young.

It only takes a minute to ask a farmer if it is okay to hunt. Check with him on where his stock is located. Most farmers don't mind letting hunters on their land, but they do like to know they are there.

BASS FISHING should be on the upswing this month. Field reports show hardnosed fishermen are landing some lunkers in area lakes.

Bass have started feeding on minnows in Beaver Creek. All indications point to a very good spawn of smallmouths in the creek the past two years.

The bass are there and now is a good time to go after them.

As a suggestion, make it a dual outing. Go hunting in the early morning. Break for a snack and then go fishing.

BY WAY OF THE GRAPEVINE, There is all indication the Ohio Division of Wildlife is readying a stepped up program of fish management.

An announcement should be forthcoming in the near future on plans. The state promised new and improved programs when it was asking for a hike in fishing and hunting license fees.

A TOTAL OF 121 POLLUTION cases have been investigated in Pennsylvania since the beginning of the year and to date, 61 of the cases have been closed with $12,513 added to the fish fund.

Several of the unsettled cases have been turned over to the Sanitary Water Board of the Department of Health for legal action. The remaining cases are under further investigation or litigation.

Sportsmen played a big part in reporting pollutions and providing officers with helpful information.

RED WORMS AGAIN. Several anglers are reporting red worms in Lake Erie perch. The small, thread-like worms are a parasite.

They will not infect humans and are not considered harmful to human health if the fish are well cooked.

The worm does not harm the ability of the fish to survive or impair normal life activities.

This parasite is found mostly during the summer, although they can be found in fish caught during the winter.

FISHING SHOULD be excellent in West Virginia this weekend, the Natural Resources Department predicts.

The department said the only thing that could dampen this prospect would be rain since smallmouth bass and catfish have started their fall feeding season.

Most streams in the state are clear and normal.

THE LISBON AREA COON Hunters Club will hold a fall festival event next Saturday.

The program includes water races, field trials and dog and gun auctions. Harley Huffman of Lisbon RD 4 is secretary, and further information can be obtained by contacting him.

WITH THE FALL season nearing, trees soon will be changing color and many persons will be making trips to see the beauty provided by nature.

One place to visit is the Wildflower Reserve operated by the Western Pennsylvania Conservancy off Route 18 in Raccoon Township.

The area is open to the public daily from 10 a.m. to sunset, except Mondays. It also remains open during the winter.

Roger Latham of Pittsburgh, an outdoors writer and lecturer, will give a talk on natural history of the Arctic at the reserve Oct. 27 at 7:30 p.m.

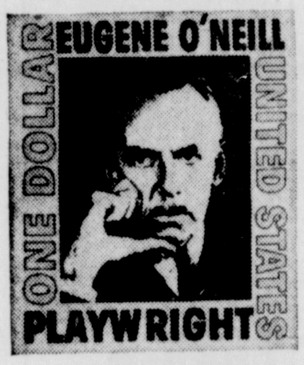

Russell Lovell, 5, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Garver of Negley, seems to find this 5-pound puff ball rather appetizing. Discovered by his father on an embankment beside Route 170 near East Palestine, the woodland mushroom tops the 3¼-pound one found earlier this week by Ted Wetzel.

Stamps In The News

Eugene O'Neill, winner of four Pulitzer Prizes and a Nobel Prize for literature, will be the first American playwright to be honored with a U.S. stamp.

The $1 O'Neill stamp, of the "Prominent Americans" series will be issued Oct. 16 at New London, Conn., his boyhood home. The design features a portrait of O'Neill based on a photograph which captures his characteristic brooding mood. The stamps will be printed in dark purple.

Across the top of the verticle stamp is "Eugene O'Neill." In the same type beneath the photo is "Playwright."

O'Neill was born Oct. 16, 1888, in New York — 79 years prior to the issuance of his special stamp. He died in Boston Nov. 27, 1953.

Collectors desiring first-day cancellations may send addressed envelopes, together with remittance to cover the cost of the stamps to be affixed, to the Postmaster, New London, Conn. 06320. The envelope to the postmaster should be endorsed "First Day Covers Eugene O'Neill Stamp."

Requests must be postmark-no later than Oct. 16.

THIS YEAR'S ASDA (American Stamp Dealers' Association) Postage Stamp Show to be held Nov. 17-19 in New York will be a special treat for first-day cover collectors.

The show will feature first day sales of three new issues.

One will be a new U.S. 5-cent regular postage stamp, a 5-cent United Nations commemorative showing a motif from a stained glass window by Marc Chagall, and a special U.N. art presentation sheet of six 5-cent stamps that combine to show the entire Chagall window.

THE ISRAELI Ministry of Posts has announced it has released a set of 12 envelopes with official post office cancellations from occupied territories.

According to word from the Israel Philatelic Agency in New York, the envelopes have cancellations from the following cities — Jerusalem, Jericho, Gaza, Bethlehem, Hebron, Ramalla, Nablus, Jenin, Tul Karm, Rafiah, Kahn Yunis and Deir el Balah.

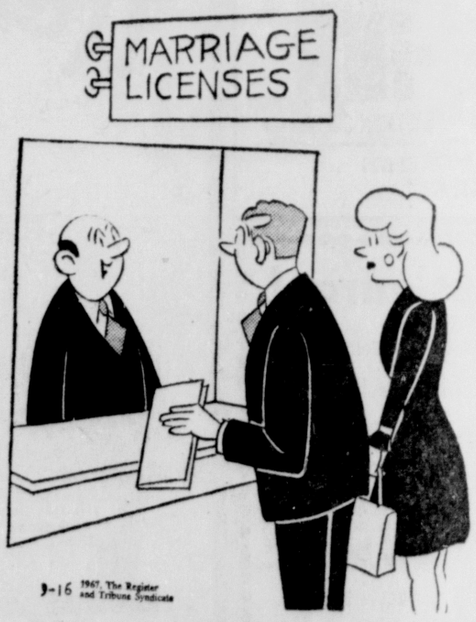

Each of the 12 envelopes is affixed with a 15-agorot definitive stamp, the official seal of the Ministry of Posts, plus the cancellation. The cancellations have the names of the cities inscribed in Hebrew, English and Arabic. All, except the Jerusalem cancellation, include the word "ZAHAL" — the Hebrew name of the Israel Defense Forces.

This unusual set of envelopes is available at your local stamp dealer or you may write directly to the Israel Philatelic Agency in America, 116 W. 32nd St., New York, N. Y. 10001.

AUSTRALIA will issue a 4-cent postage stamp to mark the fifth World Congress of Gynecology and Obstetrics scheduled for Sydney University. Alan Hulme, Australian postmaster general, said the stamp is also being issued in recognition of the special importance of gynecology and obstetrics in modern medicine.

Penney, 92, Eyes Century Mark

James Cash Penney, founder of the J. C. Penney Co. chain of stores across the U.S., today observed his 92nd birthday anniversary, still busy with many of the projects which have drawn his interest all his life.

Penney, born on a farm in Missouri, has an office in the 45-story Penney Building in New York, and although he has not been directly involved in management of the store chain for some years, is still a director.

He operates a farm in upstate New York with an outstanding herd of purebred Angus cattle, and maintains heavy correspondence with friends and business acquaintances throughout the country.

He also continues to visit occasionally some of the nearly 1,700 Penney stores in the nation.

On his birthday anniversary, the nonagenarian looks forward to observing his 100th anniversary with confidence.

You And The Law

"We the people of the United States, in order to form a more perfect Union, establish justice, insure domestic tranquillity, provide for the common defence, promote the general welfare, and secure the blessings of liberty to our selves and our posterity, do ordain and establish this Constitution for the United States of America."

Thus begins the Constitution of the United States which has stood the test of 180 years. The convention which framed the preamble and the first seven articles completed its work Sept. 17, 1787. In honor of this, the week of Sept. 17 has been set aside as "Constitution Week" by presidential proclamation and the day of Sept. 17 proclaimed "Citizenship Day."

OURS IS the oldest federal constitution in existence. The United States was in its 12th year of independence when the Constitution was drafted.

Attending the convention in Philadelphia, headed by George Washington, were delegates from 12 of the 13 original states. Rhode Island was not represented.

Upon completion of the draft, copies of it were sent to all 13 states for ratification. It was to become effective when ratified by nine states.

Delaware was the first state to ratify the Constituion on Dec. 7, 1787. On June 21, 1788, New Hampshire became the ninth state to ratify. The Constitution then went into effect the first Wednesday in March, 1789.

The Constitution has been amended 24 times. The first 10 amendments are commonly known as the Bill of Rights. This group of amendments was proposed by the First Congress and became effective Dec. 15, 1791.

The latest amendment was effective Jan. 23, 1964. It makes unconstitutional the payment of any poll tax or other taxes as a prerequisite for voting in a federal election.

The old things are passed away.—(II Cor. 5:17)

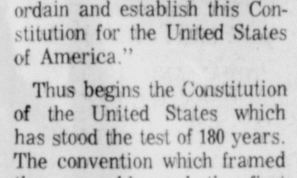

Let us consciously let go the past; let us think of old thoughts and old conditions as waters that have passed away. Let us live in the present and utilize and express the wonderful God powers and capabilities that are ours. We can bless the past and let it go. It has served its purpose. Our purpose now is to live in God's wonderful present.

A Yummy Plum Harvest

Amy Pugh, 9, of Chester is shown sampling some marmalade made by Mrs. Samuel Livezey, left, from a 30-year-old plum tree which this year yielded 21 pecks.

Mr. and Mrs. Livezey of 161 Carolina Ave. consider themselves fortunate to have the yummy yield this year, for the annual harvest ranges from zero in 1963 to a record 26 pecks of the blue damzel variety the following year.

The 20-foot high tree, which has a trunk circumference of 2 feet 7 inches, also produced 21 pecks in 1957.

Mrs. Livezey, a buyer in the housewares department of the D. M. Ogilvie & Co. store for 49 years, sells the tart fruit to area markets, gives it to friends or makes plum marmalade. Her husband is a parttime employe of the Frank Crook Co. where he retired four years ago.

Amy is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Pugh of Indiana Ave., and apparently a marmalade lover.

'Mail Has Been Favorable,' Romney Says In 'Brainwash'

By HARRY KELLY
Associated Press Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Michigan Gov. George Romney says his mail has been "overwhelmingly favorable" on his charge that he had been "brainwashed" in Vietnam.

Romney, on the fifth day of a 19-day survey of urban problems around the nation, visited Brooklyn's Bedford-Stuyvesant section, a predominantly Negro area, Friday.

Today he tours Harlem then goes on to Sullivan County.

Romney, an undeclared candidate for the Republican presidential nomination, had said that his original support for U.S. involvement in Vietnam was due to a "brainwashing" he got during a visit to the war area during 1965.

Some members of his own party feared his words might damage him politically.

But Romney told newsmen, in an informal question and answer session while riding a bus through New York, that his mail showed overwhelming support for his statement. He cited no specific figures.

Concerning four Democrats who came from Michigan to urge the governor to return to his own state, where teachers and auto workers are on strike, Romney said he was in constant touch with the situations in Detroit and elsewhere, but that there was nothing he could do that was not being done.

"I will interrupt this trip at any point," Romney said, if aides tell him he is needed.

Concerning urban domestic against Vitnam priorities, Romney declared: "A lot of people are very frustrated and bitter, and it's time to do something because there's tinder in the cities that will make Vietnam look like child's play, and I mean just that."

Romney, who insists his trip is nonpolitical, did a great deal of hand-shaking during his tour Friday, climbed ladders to peer into rehabilitation work and posed for photographers wielding a paint brush at a project.

Charges Denied By Farm Bureau

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Farm Bureau Federation denied Friday charges by a congressman that the organization is operating a 'con game" in connection with its Landmark farm Bureau Cooperative.

D.R. Stanfield, Federation executive vice president, said the charges by Rep. Joseph Y. Resnick, D-N.Y., were ridiculous and untrue.

Resnick asked Ohio Atty. Gen. William B. Saxbe to investigate the Ohio Farm Bureau after Mrs. Norma Williams of Ashland County reportedly told him that Landmark refused to redeem certificates distributed as dividends.

Stanfield said if Saxbe decides to investigate the Farm Bureau "we will cooperate with him to the fullest degree."

Resnick is conducting a one-man nationwide investigation of the Farm Bureau.

Record Player Found After Entry At School

A high fidelity record player taken in a burglary at Garfield School Thursday night or early Friday was found early yesterday afternoon in weeds near the rear of East Junior High School, police reported.

Patrolman Jerry F. Adkins said he was on routine cruiser patrol when a man halted him and pointed out the spot where the portable model phonograph had been concealed. The officer took the machine to headquarters.

Meanwhile, a supplemental report was filed on a burglary at Horace Mann School which occurred Thursday night or Friday morning. School authorities said they had discovered the loss of $5 in change, 25 greeting cards and a girl's bracelet. The initial report said nothing apparently was taken.

'Mail Has Been Favorable,' Romney Says In 'Brainwash'

By HARRY KELLY
Associated Press Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Michigan Gov. George Romney says his mail has been "overwhelmingly favorable" on his charge that he had been "brainwashed" in Vietnam.

Romney, on the fifth day of a 19-day survey of urban problems around the nation, visited Brooklyn's Bedford-Stuyvesant section, a predominantly Negro area, Friday.

Today he tours Harlem then goes on to Sullivan County.

Romney, an undeclared candidate for the Republican presidential nomination, had said that his original support for U.S. involvement in Vietnam was due to a "brainwashing" he got during a visit to the war area during 1965.

Some members of his own party feared his words might damage him politically.

But Romney told newsmen, in an informal question and answer session while riding a bus through New York, that his mail showed overwhelming support for his statement. He cited no specific figures.

Concerning four Democrats who came from Michigan to urge the governor to return to his own state, where teachers and auto workers are on strike, Romney said he was in constant touch with the situations in Detroit and elsewhere, but that there was nothing he could do that was not being done.

"I will interrupt this trip at any point," Romney said, if aides tell him he is needed.

Concerning urban domestic against Vitnam priorities, Romney declared: "A lot of people are very frustrated and bitter, and it's time to do something because there's tinder in the cities that will make Vietnam look like child's play, and I mean just that."

Romney, who insists his trip is nonpolitical, did a great deal of hand-shaking during his tour Friday, climbed ladders to peer into rehabilitation work and posed for photographers wielding a paint brush at a project.

South America's tallest building, a 45 - story skyscraper, is a feature of the Sao Paulo landscape.

Charges Denied By Farm Bureau

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Farm Bureau Federation denied Friday charges by a congressman that the organization is operating a 'con game" in connection with its Landmark farm Bureau Cooperative.

D.R. Stanfield, Federation executive vice president, said the charges by Rep. Joseph Y. Resnick, D-N.Y., were ridiculous and untrue.

Resnick asked Ohio Atty. Gen. William B. Saxbe to investigate the Ohio Farm Bureau after Mrs. Norma Williams of Ashland County reportedly told him that Landmark refused to redeem certificates distributed as dividends.

Stanfield said if Saxbe decides to investigate the Farm Bureau "we will cooperate with him to the fullest degree."

Resnick is conducting a one-man nationwide investigation of the Farm Bureau.

Record Player Found After Entry At School

A high fidelity record player taken in a burglary at Garfield School Thursday night or early Friday was found early yesterday afternoon in weeds near the rear of East Junior High School, police reported.

Patrolman Jerry F. Adkins said he was on routine cruiser patrol when a man halted him and pointed out the spot where the portable model phonograph had been concealed. The officer took the machine to headquarters.

Meanwhile, a supplemental report was filed on a burglary at Horace Mann School which occurred Thursday night or Friday morning. School authorities said they had discovered the loss of $5 in change, 25 greeting cards and a girl's bracelet. The initial report said nothing apparently was taken.

Speech Club Holds Contest

Six members participated in the table topics contest when the Toastmasters Club met Wednesday night in the gas company offices on W. 6th St.

Discussed was the question "Should Young People 18 Years Of Age Be Permitted To Drink Legally?"

Robert Frontz was judged the winner and received the bull-thrower award. First runnerup was Vince Maola and second runner - up Harold Sneddon.

The judges were Ed Custer, chief evaluator, Don Hancock and James Cunningham.

George Beck served as toastmaster.

Prepared speeches were presented by Don Hancock and Ed Gray, with Gray receiving the most improved speaker award."

The local club's evaluation contest will be held next Wednesday, with any member eligible to participate. The winner or alternate will advance to the area contest.

Plans were completed for the "Old - timer's Night" Sept. 27 at 7:30.

Plans for the formation of a Gavel Club sponsored by the local club are progressing. It is anticipated that the following schools will be represented; Beaver Local, Wellsville, Oak Glen, Midland and East Liverpool.

City Credit Union Signs Members; Grants 12 Loans

Three new members were enrolled during a meeting of the City Employes Credit Union Thursday afternoon in the Council chamber at City Hall, bringing the total to 84.

Harold Peterson, credit committee chairman, reported 12 loans totaling $2,443.26 were granted during July and August. D. G. Wilkinson, head of the supervisory committee, reported completion of an audit of the books covering the period April 1-July 30.

John C. Howell, field representative of the Ohio Credit Union League, extended an invitation to the local group to join the state organization. The board adopted an amendment to the bylaws concerning granting of loans to directors and supervisory and credit committee members.

The next monthly meeting will be held Oct. 13.

Mental Health Study To Begin On Sept. 26

BEAVER — A mental health study being offered clergymen of all faiths will begin Sept. 26 at the First Methodist Church here.

Co-sponsoring the series of seven sessions on consecutive Tuesday are the Beaver County Mental Health Society, Beaver County Council of Churches, Beaver County Deanery of the Catholic Diocese of Pittsburgh, Beaver Valley United Jewish Community and the Beaver County Federation of Orthodox Priests.

The final session will be Nov. 7. While designed primarily for clergymen, the program is open to laymen. The tuition fee is $10.

Further information on enrollment may be obtained by contacting the mental health society before Friday.

Surfacing Finished; Seal-Coating Started

The Ohio Tar & Asphalt Co. of Canton, contractor, finished work Friday afternoon on surfacing of sections of 34 East Liverpool streets and its crews turned immediately to applications of seal coats on streets which were surfaced in the 1963 and 1965 low cost street programs.

The firm started work early in the Klondyke area, moving progressively westward and ending the first phase of the program on Pleasant Heights. The seal coating began on the Heights and will move eastward.

The crews are not scheduled to work today or tomorrow. The seal - coating will resume Monday. It's part of the city's annual low cost summer street surfacing program.

Shirley Temple, as a child movie actress, accumulated in excess of a million dollars before she was 10 years old.

Officers Are Installed At Jaycee-ettes Event

Mrs. Frank Mangano of Park Way was installed as president of the Jaycee-ettes following a dessert luncheon Tuesday night at the Holiday Inn of Waterford Park.

She served as project chairman the past season and was in charge of the purchase and distribution of Christmas gifts for the nursing homes.

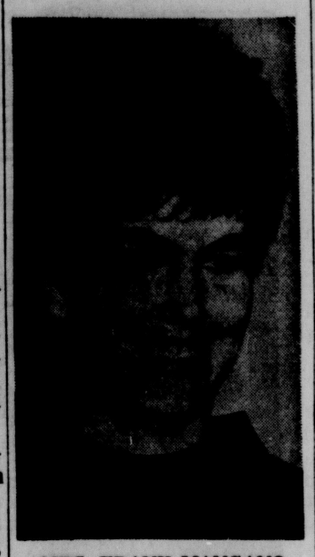

Other officers seated were Mrs. Keith Goodman, vice president; Mrs. Frederick Luhrs, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Joseph Smith Jr., recording secretay; Mrs. Richard Darrah, treasurer, and Mrs. Larry Walton, paliamentarian.

Named to standing committees as chairmen were Mrs. John Beauchamp, ways and means; Mrs. Vincent Laneve, program; Mrs. Richard Beatty, scrapbook, and Mrs. Charles Lang, project research.

Frank Moss, president of the Jaycees, conducted the installation ceremony using the Jaycee creed. He discussed the occupations of the husbands of the members.

The group decided to sell a "pig-in-the-poke" at each sessio for fund - raising and discussed future projects. Mrs. Gary White received a prize.

Covers were arranged for 22 at tables decorated with fall leaves, mums and coffee color tapers. The speaker's table featured a fall floral arrangement in brown container. Members of the executive board formed the social committee.

MRS. FRANK MANGANO
Serves As President.

Guests were Mrs. Paul Zehnder, Mrs. Thomas Babb, Mrs. David Darkow, Mrs. William Glass and Mrs. Robert Weaver.

The next session will be Oct. 10 at the new meeting place, the Glenmoor service center of the Ohio Valley Gas Co.

Commissioners Hire Banker As Adviser For Investments

LISBON — Columbiana County commissioners have retained Tom Rawlings, cashier of the Citizens Bank at Salineville, as adviser for specific investments of county funds at a salary of $25 a month.

The commissioners last month appointed a county investment board, including the commissioners' chairman, county auditor and prosecuting attorney.

James W. Boyd and Charles J. Gause voted to retain Rawlings. R. Max Gard opposed the motion.

The commissioners Thursday also voted to:

Accept an offer of the Weyant Painting Co. at Lisbon to paint the dog warden's office in the Courthouse basement for $118.50.

Ask Center Township trustees to state their attitude toward an application made by George R. Arnoto to the Ohio Department of Liquor Control for a 3-A permit for Pine Tree Inn.

Adopt a resolution opposing an application for a D-2 permit filed by Virginia Faust for the Spring Valley Diner in West Township, township trustees and residents having declared themselves against the permit.

Approve the request of the Soldiers Relief Commission to buy an IBM typewriter for $433.

Potters Rout Midland 42-0; McVay, Scott Star

Local Runners Gain 378 Yards

By Turk Pierce
Review Sports Editor

A fired-up East Liverpool High football team crushed Midland 42-0 at Patterson Field last night before a sellout crowd.

The Potters were out for revenge for last year's 19-13 loss, the only blemish in a 9-1 season, and last night's game was no contest after the first period.

Speedy Sam Scott jitterbugged his way through a porous Midland defense for 195 yards and two TDs. Among his 21 carries were two runs of over 50 yards Mike McVay, the other halfback, scored three times and gained 103 yards in 16 carries. Quarterback Earl Diddle out to make up for last year when he threw five interceptions against Midland, guided the awesome 378-yard ground attack, attempting only three passes and completing one. Diddle carried for 28 yards in three attempts, including a beautifully executed quarterback draw play that was good for 17 yards.

All the Potter injured were ready to go except Bruce Christian, Jim Musuraca and Dan Cunningham, and no other injuries were suffered in the contest by the Potters. For Joe Hamilton's team it was a different story, as fullback Howard Leak sustained a shoulder separation, Ed Brozik broke a blood vessel in his hand and co-captain Chuch McShane injured a finger.

Midland was generally able to contain the Potters the first two times East Liverpool had the ball, but two key plays gave the home team a 14-0 lead. After that the Leopards seemed to let down and there was no stopping the locals.

Midland was forced to punt after taking the opening kickoff and Frank Granito sliced a 10-yarder out of bounds on the Leopard 31. On fourth and one out of an I formation, Scott took the ball over right guard just far enough for the first down. The Potters were unable to gain substantially on end sweeps, as Granito and Greg Braund contained the plays well. But on fourth and six Diddle lofted a pass to McVay on the 4. Jackie Campbell cut inside McVay and got his hands on the ball, but McVay wrestled it away and strode into the end zone for the first score. Scott ran for the conversion.

East Liverpool started its next drive on its own 44. With third and five on the 49 Diddle threw a pass too high for Jerry Christian, who started at tight end in place of his injured brother, but Dave Vanlier interfered on the play and the winners had a first down on the Leopard 31. McVay carried three times from the 27 for the score and also ran for the conversion.

The Potters missed a chance to score early in the second period when Diddle returned a punt 25 yards to the Midland 7. Bill Jones rambled for 11 yards but on the next play McVay fumbled and Vanlier recovered.

The next scoring drive for the locals started on their own 38 and was climaxed by a 27 yard run around left end by Scott, who threw a fantastic fake to get by Vanlier on the five. There were less than two minutes left in the half, but the Potters scored again after Nelson (Sonny) Clark intercepted a Campbell pass after Campbell had conected with Vanlier for a 28-yard gain. East Liverpool started on their own 33 and Scott went the last 53 yards, junking two would-be Midland tacklers at the sideline at the 15.

In the third period Midland made its only foray into enemy territory, when a pass interference call against John Johnson gave them a first down on the locals' 40. Jim Bess, playing his first game of the season after a hand injury, broke up a fourth down pass to halt the brief drive

After an exchange of punts, including a 52-yarder by Granito, Scott scampered 51 yards up the west sideline before being forced out of bounds at the Midland 25 by Vanlier, who had an angle on him. In six more plays McVay plunged over right tackle for the last two yards and ran for the extra point.

The final Potter score came following a 41 yard drive, with Mike Jackson, a linebacker who rarely plays offense, angling the last five yards for the TD.

Coach Bob McNea cited the play of the defensive line of Bob Jones, Bill Hopper, Stanley Ice, and Don Cochran. Midland was limited to 34 yards rushing and Vanlier netted only three yards in six attempts. Leak was the leading rusher for the Leopards with 18 yards.

In the offensive line McNea had praise for John Stepien and Christian. Other significant ground gainers for the Potters were sophomore Rick Merritt with 27 yards on three carries and Jones with 26 on five tries.

The Potters, now 2-0, have an open date next week and are idle until they host Steubenville Central, a 13-18 loser to Follansbee last night, on Sept. 30. Midland, 1-1, shows at Beaver next week.

Columbiana Wins 2nd, Beats Carrollton 21-7

COLUMBIANA — Trailing 7-6 at halftime, the Columbiana Clippers stormed from behind with two second half touch downs to turn back Carrollton, 21-7, here Friday night.

The second straight victory of the season for the Clippers served as their final tuneup for Tri-County League play which opens next Saturday at Poland.

Columbiana drew first blood when Bill Ward scored his first of two touchdowns by going over from seven yards out. Ward's TD was the sixth play of a 44-yard drive by Columbiana.

The lead was short-lived as Carrollton moved in front before the first period closed when Bill Carpenter touched paydirt on a five yard run and the extra point was added by Alan Miller's placement.

Carrollton's only score of the game came after a blocked punt by Jim Allmon with the visitors taking over at midfield.

Columbiana went in front for good when linebacker Dave Weikert broke through the Carrollton line to block a punt with Greg Gustafson recovering on the Carrollton 30. Several plays later Dave Morris went four yards for the touchdown and Ward ran the conversion to put Columbiana in front 14-7.

In the fourth quarter, Ward climaxed a 61-yard march by carrying 14 yards to the goal on a fourth and eight situation for the final touchdown. Bob Hum converted for the final point.

Columbiana showed a 13-5 edge in first downs and netted 212 yards on the ground while holding Carrollton to 97.

S. California Opens On 49-0 Win

Tennessee-UCLA Battle Grabs College Spotlight

By BEN OLAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Tennessee's football coach Doug Dickey volunteers the opinion that all college teams, regardless of section or conference, should be eligible to play in the Rose Bowl, the granddaddy of the post-season classics.

Tonight, his Volunteers will give some indication whether they have the stuff to play in the New Year's Day game in Pasadena, Calif., if it actually were possible.

The opposition is formidable. It's UCLA and its brilliant quarterback, Gary Beban. The Bruins were rated eighth in the preseason Associated Press poll and are potential powers in the Pacific-8 race.

Southern California, another highly-rated coast team, helped kick off the first big weekend of the season Friday night by walloping Washington State 49-0 and Houston crushed Florida State 33-13 in the only major games.

The Trojans, ranked seventh in the preseason poll, piled up 28 points in the second quarter after a scoreless opening period. Fullback Dan Scott scored twice on runs of five and two yards and added a third TD in the third period on an eight-yard smash.

USC went to the Rose Bowl last year, but lost to Purdue 14-13.

The Rose Bowl, of course, now matches the West Coast champion against a Big Ten representative. But Dickey looks at it this way:

"A whole new generation has grown up since the Rose Bowl became a closed deal between the Big Ten and Coast teams. As a boy I used to read of Alabama and Tennessee in the Rose Bowl. It would be a great thing for football if those days could come back."

UCLA, playing at home, is a slight favorite to beat the Vols, No. 9 in the preseason ratings. The odds, though, haven't done much to relax Tommy Prothro, the UCLA pilot.

Prothro describes Tennessee as "the quickest team in the land" and admits "I wake up with nightmares." He probably has been doing considerable thinking, too, about Dewey Warren, the Vols' star quarterback, who guided his team to a 37-34 victory over UCLA two years ago in the only game between the two schools.

Another featured game on Saturday's schedule pits Texas A&M against Southern Methodist at College Station, Tex., and on the nation's television screens via ABC starting at 4:20 p.m., EDT.

The Aggies are 10-point choices over the Mustangs, who surprisingly won the Southwest Conference title last year. SMU, however, has lost 21 lettermen, including 11 starters from the 1966 team.

Texas A&M's key man is Edd Hargett, who completed nearly half the passes he threw last season and ranked No. 2 among the nation's major college throwers.

Colorado, No. 10 in the preseason poll, plays Baylor while Nebraska is at Washington in two other important games.

Other games match Stanford and Oregon State, California and Oregon, South Carolina and Iowa State, North Carolina and North Carolina State, Duke and Wake Forest, Oklahoma State and Air Force and West Virginia and Richmond.

United Runs Out Of Time In 8-0 Loss To Sebring

SEBRING — Time ran out on United's Golden Eagles who were left one foot short of the goal line as the final gun sounded in Sebring's 8-0 victory here Friday night.

After Sebring had punched across the only touchdown of the game early in the fourth quarter, United rallied and marched half the length of the field to the one foot line where the game ended.

The setback was the second straight close decision for the Eagles who lost in the last minute to Leetonia in the opener.

Following a sustained drive, Sebring's fullback Frank Bailey went over from five yards out for the lone touchdown with Jim Baddeley running the conversion.

In defeat, United's fullback Tom Wood put on a dazzling display of running by gaining 176 yards in 22 carries. Baddeley was the big gun for Sebring with 107 yards in 24 attempts.

Both teams were tied in first downs with 13 each while United had 208 yards rushing and Sebring 148.

Cup Race Postponed By Hurricane Doria

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP) — The Americas' Cup race committee not only talked about the weather, they did something about it.

They cancelled today's scheduled fourth race for the Holy Grail of yachting because of Hurricane Doria. The committee made its decision Friday after the weather bureau said winds from the Doria with gusts up to 40 knots would sweep over Newport today and kick up heavy seas.

This was much too much for Intrepid, the New York Yacht Club defender, and Dame Pattie, the Australian challenger.

Potters Rout Midland 42-0; McVay, Scott Star

SCORES. Mike McVay scores for East Liverpool with Jackie Campbell of Midland hanging on to him. McVay tallied three times in 42-0 Potter rout.

Local Runners Gain 378 Yards

By Turk Pierce
Review Sports Editor

A fired-up East Liverpool High football team crushed Midland 42-0 at Patterson Field last night before a sellout crowd.

The Potters were out for revenge for last year's 19-13 loss, the only blemish in a 9-1 season, and last night's game was no contest after the first period.

Speedy Sam Scott jitterbugged his way through a porous Midland defense for 195 yards and two TDs. Among his 21 carries were two runs of over 50 yards. Mike McVay, the other halfback, scored three times and gained 103 yards in 16 carries. Quarterback Earl Diddle out to make up for last year when he threw five interceptions against Midland, guided the awesome 378-yard ground attack, attempting only three passes and completing one. Diddle carried for 28 yards in three attempts, including a beautifully executed quarterback draw play that was good for 17 yards.

All the Potter injured were ready to go except Bruce Christian, Jim Musuraca and Dan Cunningham, and no other injuries were suffered in the contest by the Potters. For Joe Hamilton's team it was a different story, as fullback Howard Leak sustained a shoulder separation, Ed Brozik broke a blood vessel in his hand and co-captain Chuch McShane injured a finger.

Midland was generally able to contain the Potters the first two times East Liverpool had the ball, but two key plays gave the home team a 14-0 lead. After that the Leopards seemed to let down and there was no stopping the locals.

Midland was forced to punt after taking the opening kickoff and Frank Granito sliced a 10-yarder out of bounds on the Leopard 31. East Liverpool started its next drive on its own 44. With third and five on the 49 Diddle threw a pass too high for Jerry Christian, who started at tight end in place of his injured brother, but Dave Vanlier interfered on the play and the winners had a first down on the Leopard 31. McVay carried three times from the 27 for the score and also ran for the conversion.

The Potters missed a chance to score early in the second period when Diddle returned a punt 25 yards to the Midland 7. Bill Jones rambled for 11 yards but on the next play McVay fumbled and Vanlier recovered.

The next scoring drive for the locals started on their own 38 and was climaxed by a 27 yard run around left end by Scott, who threw a fantastic fake to get by Vanlier on the five. There were less than two minutes left in the half, but the Potters scored again after Nelson (Sonny) Clark intercepted a Campbell pass after Campbell had conected with Vanlier for a 28-yard gain. The final Potter score came following a 41 yard drive, with Mike Jackson, a linebacker who rarely plays offense, angling the last five yards for the TD.

Coach Bob McNea cited the play of the defensive line of Bob Jones, Bill Hopper, Stanley Ice, and Don Cochran. Midland was limited to 34 yards rushing and Vanlier netted only three yards in six attempts. Leak was the leading rusher for the Leopards with 18 yards.

In the offensive line McNea had praise for John Stepien and Christian. Other significant ground gainers for the Potters were sophomore Rick Merritt with 27 yards on three carries and Jones with 26 on five tries.

The Potters, now 2-0, have an open date next week and are idle until they host Steubenville Central, a 13-18 loser to Follansbee last night, on Sept. 30. Midland, 1-1, shows at Beaver next week.

COLUMBIANA — Trailing 7-6 at halftime, the Columbiana Clippers stormed from behind with two second half touch downs to turn back Carrollton, 21-7, here Friday night.

The second straight victory of the season for the Clippers served as their final tuneup for Tri-County League play which opens next Saturday at Poland.

Columbiana drew first blood when Bill Ward scored his first of two touchdowns by going over from seven yards out. Ward's TD was the sixth play of a 44-yard drive by Columbiana.

The lead was short-lived as Carrollton moved in front before the first period closed when Bill Carpenter touched paydirt on a five yard run and the extra point was added by Alan Miller's placement.

Carrollton's only score of the game came after a blocked punt by Jim Allmon with the visitors taking over at midfield.

Columbiana went in front for good when linebacker Dave Weikert broke through the Carrollton line to block a punt with Greg Gustafson recovering on the Carrollton 30. Several plays later Dave Morris went four yards for the touchdown and Ward ran the conversion to put Columbiana in front 14-7.

In the fourth quarter, Ward climaxed a 61-yard march by carrying 14 yards to the goal on a fourth and eight situation for the final touchdown. Bob Hum converted for the final point.

Columbiana showed a 13-5 edge in first downs and netted 212 yards on the ground while holding Carrollton to 97.

The Clippers were 2-6 in the air for 26 yards while Carrollton had a 3-8 mark in the air for 35 yards.

$1 Million Is Sought By Clemente In Suit

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Suits totaling $1.75 million are now on file in federal court against Pittsburgh Weekley Sports.

Robert Clemente and Willie Stargell of the Pittsburgh Pirates have claimed the newspaper libeled them in a story of a fight it said took place in the Pirate clubhouse.

Stargell sued for $750,000 July 25. Clemente filed a $1 million damage suit Friday.

S. California Opens On 49-0 Win

Tennessee-UCLA Battle Grabs College Spotlight

By BEN OLAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Tennessee's football coach Doug Dickey volunteers the opinion that all college teams, regardless of section or conference, should be eligible to play in the Rose Bowl, the granddaddy of the post-season classics.

Tonight, his Volunteers will give some indication whether they have the stuff to play in the New Year's Day game in Pasadena, Calif., if it actually were possible.

The opposition is formidable. It's UCLA and its brilliant quarterback, Gary Beban. The Bruins were rated eighth in the preseason Associated Press poll and are potential powers in the Pacific-8 race.

Southern California, another highly-rated coast team, helped kick off the first big weekend of the season Friday night by walloping Washington State 49-0 and Houston crushed Florida State 33-13 in the only major games.

The Trojans, ranked seventh in the preseason poll, piled up 28 points in the second quarter after a scoreless opening period. Fullback Dan Scott scored twice on runs of five and two yards and added a third TD in the third period on an eight-yard smash.

USC went to the Rose Bowl last year, but lost to Purdue 14-13.

The Rose Bowl, of course, now matches the West Coast champion against a Big Ten representative. But Dickey looks at it this way:

"A whole new generation has grown up since the Rose Bowl became a closed deal between the Big Ten and Coast teams. As a boy I used to read of Alabama and Tennessee in the Rose Bowl. It would be a great thing for football if those days could come back."

UCLA, playing at home, is a slight favorite to beat the Vols, No. 9 in the preseason ratings. The odds, though, haven't done much to relax Tommy Prothro, the UCLA pilot.

Prothro describes Tennessee as "the quickest team in the land" and admits "I wake up with nightmares." He probably has been doing considerable thinking, too, about Dewey Warren, the Vols' star quarterback, who guided his team to a 37-34 victory over UCLA two years ago in the only game between the two schools.

Another featured game on Saturday's schedule pits Texas A&M against Southern Methodist at College Station, Tex., and on the nation's television screens via ABC starting at 4:20 p.m., EDT.

The Aggies are 10-point choices over the Mustangs, who surprisingly won the Southwest Conference title last year. SMU, however, has lost 21 lettermen, including 11 starters from the 1966 team.

Texas A&M's key man is Edd Hargett, who completed nearly half the passes he threw last season and ranked No. 2 among the nation's major college throwers.

Colorado, No. 10 in the preseason poll, plays Baylor while Nebraska is at Washington in two other important games.

Other games match Stanford and Oregon State, California and Oregon, South Carolina and Iowa State, North Carolina and North Carolina State, Duke and Wake Forest, Oklahoma State and Air Force and West Virginia and Richmond.

United Runs Out Of Time In 8-0 Loss To Sebring

SEBRING — Time ran out on United's Golden Eagles who were left one foot short of the goal line as the final gun sounded in Sebring's 8-0 victory here Friday night.

After Sebring had punched across the only touchdown of the game early in the fourth quarter, United rallied and marched half the length of the field to the one foot line where the game ended.

The setback was the second straight close decision for the Eagles who lost in the last minute to Leetonia in the opener.

Following a sustained drive, Sebring's fullback Frank Bailey went over from five yards out for the lone touchdown with Jim Baddeley running the conversion.

In defeat, United's fullback Tom Wood put on a dazzling display of running by gaining 176 yards in 22 carries. Baddeley was the big gun for Sebring with 107 yards in 24 attempts.

Both teams were tied in first downs with 13 each while United had 208 yards rushing and Sebring 148.

Cup Race Postponed By Hurricane Doria

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP) — The Americas' Cup race committee not only talked about the weather, they did something about it.

They cancelled today's scheduled fourth race for the Holy Grail of yachting because of Hurricane Doria. The committee made its decision Friday after the weather bureau said winds from the Doria with gusts up to 40 knots would sweep over Newport today and kick up heavy seas.

This was much too much for Intrepid, the New York Yacht Club defender, and Dame Pattie, the Australian challenger.

Horlen Puts Chisox Back In Race, Stops Twins On 3 Hits

Tigers Gain 5-4 Nod; Bosox Lose

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

Joel Horlen has everything back in the proper perspective and the Chicago White Sox are beginning to see the light again.

Horlen, the near-sighted Chicago ace who pitched a no-hitter last Sunday against Detroit, held Minnesota to three hits Friday night as the White Sox gained precious ground in the American League stretch race with a 7-3 triumph over the Twins.

Shortstop Ron Hansen backed Horlen with four hits, including a pair of homers, and four RBI in the White Sox' third straight victory—which sent them within 1½ games of first place and helped create a three-way tie at the top between Minnesota, Boston and Detroit.

The Tigers, who rallied for a 5-4 victory over Washington, the Red Sox, who bowed to Baltimore 6-2, and the Twins all are 8464 with 14 games remaining. Chicago has an 83-66 mark with 13 games to play.

Elsewhere in the AL, the New York Yankees downed Cleveland 5-1 and California shaded Kansas City 2-1 in 11 innings.

Horlen, who had been wearing glasses while pitching for the last two years, discarded the specs recently—with spectacular results for the White Sox. He has allowed just two runs in reeling off three straight victories—including the no-hitter—for a 17-6 season record.

"I haven't been wearing them in my last four or five starts," he said. "I needed them because I couldn't see the signs and the edges of the plate." But suddenly, I thought they were making the plate too far away. It's far enough away as it is. So I decided to try it again without them."

A walk, Rod Carew's infield hit and a throwing error by Hansen gave the Twins a 1-0 lead in the second inning. But Hansen's two-run single and a runscoring single by Horlen sent the Sox ahead to stay in the bottom of the second and the Twins didn't get another hit until the ninth.

Then Harmon Killebrew doubled with two out and Oliva unloaded his 15th homer. "I wanted to get the one-hitter," Horlen said. "I've never had one.

"I was tired in the ninth and Killebrew just conked the ball pretty good. Then all I wanted to do with Oliva was make him hit the ball, but he hit it too darned well."

Hansen, who came into the game batting .229, extended his consecutive hit string to six in two games with two singles and his seventh and eighth homers—the first he has hit since July 1.

"The zombies are still walking," Manager Eddie Stanky said of his tenacious Sox, who were three games out on Wednesday.

The Tigers overcame a 4-1 Washington lead on Bill Freehan's three-run homer in the eighth inning, then broke the tie in the ninth on a run-scoring single by Willie Horton, who had struck out three times.

Frank Robinson drove in two runs with his 29th homer and a sacrifice fly as the Orioles capitalized on the wildness of Boston starter Dave Morehead for an early 4-0 lead. Moe Drabowsky replaced winner Tom Phoebus in the seventh and protected the rookie's 13th victory in 21 decisions.

Mickey Mantle collected three hits and drove in two runs, leading the Yankees against Cleveland. Leon Wagner's run - scoring single off winner Steve Barber in the third ended a string of 29 scoreless innings for the Indians, who were shut out by the White Sox in their previous two starts.

Don Mincher doubled with two out in the 11th inning and scored on Rick Reichardt's single, carrying the Angels past Kansas City. George Brunet and winner Bobby Locke checked the Athletics on six hits.

Jenkins Is Cubs Strikeout Leader

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Someone finally has overhauled Orval Overall.

It took 58 years, but Ferguson Jenkins finally did it Friday night by striking out two batters in the Chicago Cubs' 7-1 victory over the Atlanta Braves.

The strikeouts gave Jenkins 206 for the season, one more than the team record Overall pieced together for the Cubs in 1909.

"I just struck out two and that's terrible," said Jenkins, who gained his 18th victory against 12 defeats. "I might have been thinking about the record because the fewest I had struck out before this year was five.

"Now the big thing is to try to win 20, and I think I have three or four more chances to do it."

Old Orval, incidentally, won 20 games and lost 11 the year he set the strikeout record. His best season was 1907 when he was 23-8.

Over-all he was 108-72.

In other National League games, St. Louis blanked Cincinnati 4-0, San Francisco defeated Pittsburgh 6-3 and Los Angeles edged Philadelphia in a pair of 1-0 games.

Jenkins, who has played a major role in the rise of the Cubs this season, had to struggle to overtake Orval against the Braves. He didn't tie the mark until he fanned Joe Torre in the sixth inning, and he had to go into the ninth before getting Rico Carty on a called third strike.

The Cubs actually put the game away in the first inning as Ron Santo and Ernie Banks drove in three runs with a pair of doubles.

Steve Carlton pitched a two-hitter as St. Louis reduced its magic number to five. Any combination of Cardinal victories and San Francisco losses totaling five will clinch the pennant for St. Louis. Mike Shannon provided the big blow, a three-run homer in the third.

Willie McCovey unloaded two homers and Willie Mays one in the Giants' triumph over Pittsburgh. McCovey's second homer—and 27th of the year—followed a walk to Mays and put the Giants ahead 4-3 in the sixth.

Bill Singer stopped Philadelphia on five hits in Los Angeles' first 1-0 decision, bringing his record to 12-6. John Roseboro's fourth-inning homer off Jim Bunning won it.

In the nightcap, Don Drysdale scattered six hits and outdueled Chris Short. The Phillie left-hander blanked the Dodgers until the ninth when Lou Johnson singled, was sacrificed to second and scored on Wes Parker's single.

Ex Cowhand Holds Lead In Golf Classic

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A one-time cowboy, placed his brand on the $110,000 Philadelphia Golf Classic Friday. Today, however, he'll have to watch 78 would-be rustlers if he hopes to retain his prize—a three-stroke lead after 36 holes of the 72-hole tournament.

The ex-cowboy, George Archer, who admits he used to clean out barns and ride the range in Gilroy, Calif., shot a six-under par 31-35—66 in Friday's second round play. It left him with a 36-hole score of 134, 10 under par for the 6,708-yard Whitemarsh Valley Country Club course.

Riding hard behind him is Billy Casper, who shot a 33-35—68 for a total of 137.

Archer has to be peering over his shoulder at Casper, one of the five players on the tour who has won more than $100,000 this year.

Still in contention and capable of lassoing the $22,000 first prize is Australia's Bruce Devlin, the first round leader who skied from a 65 to a 73 and slipped to third place with a 138.

Doug Ford, Master's champion Gay Brewer, Bob Charles and Dan Sikes were bracketed at 139.

Archer, who stands 6-foot-6 and plays as big a game, said his driving and putting were the secrets to his round of six birdies and 12 pars.

Local Boy Sets Record In Shooting

David Pickins, 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Pickins of McCoy Ave., recently received a certificate for establishing a world record in bench rest shooting.

Pickins turned in the record July 15 at Reed's Run rifle range at Augusta, Ohio, and will return this weekend to compete in the Eastern Regional meet to be held Saturday and Sunday.

Pickins' record came in shooting a rifle from a rest for a five shot group at 200 yards, measuring .161 with unrestricted rifle in the restricted rest class.

He has been competing for the past three years.

Horlen Puts Chisox Back In Race, Stops Twins On 3 Hits

Tigers Gain 5-4 Nod; Bosox Lose

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

Joel Horlen has everything back in the proper perspective and the Chicago White Sox are beginning to see the light again.

Horlen, the near-sighted Chicago ace who pitched a no-hitter last Sunday against Detroit, held Minnesota to three hits Friday night as the White Sox gained precious ground in the American League stretch race with a 7-3 triumph over the Twins.

Shortstop Ron Hansen backed Horlen with four hits, including a pair of homers, and four RBI in the White Sox' third straight victory—which sent them within 1½ games of first place and helped create a three-way tie at the top between Minnesota, Boston and Detroit.

The Tigers, who rallied for a 5-4 victory over Washington, the Red Sox, who bowed to Baltimore 6-2, and the Twins all are 8464 with 14 games remaining. Chicago has an 83-66 mark with 13 games to play.

Elsewhere in the AL, the New York Yankees downed Cleveland 5-1 and California shaded Kansas City 2-1 in 11 innings.

Horlen, who had been wearing glasses while pitching for the last two years, discarded the specs recently—with spectacular results for the White Sox. He has allowed just two runs in reeling off three straight victories—including the no-hitter—for a 17-6 season record.

"I haven't been wearing them in my last four or five starts," he said. "I needed them because I couldn't see the signs and the edges of the plate." But suddenly, I thought they were making the plate too far away. It's far enough away as it is. So I decided to try it again without them."

A walk, Rod Carew's infield hit and a throwing error by Hansen gave the Twins a 1-0 lead in the second inning. But Hansen's two-run single and a runscoring single by Horlen sent the Sox ahead to stay in the bottom of the second and the Twins didn't get another hit until the ninth.

Then Harmon Killebrew doubled with two out and Oliva unloaded his 15th homer. "I wanted to get the one-hitter," Horlen said. "I've never had one.

"I was tired in the ninth and Killebrew just conked the ball pretty good. Then all I wanted to do with Oliva was make him hit the ball, but he hit it too darned well."

Hansen, who came into the game batting .229, extended his consecutive hit string to six in two games with two singles and his seventh and eighth homers—the first he has hit since July 1.

"The zombies are still walking," Manager Eddie Stanky said of his tenacious Sox, who were three games out on Wednesday.

The Tigers overcame a 4-1 Washington lead on Bill Freehan's three-run homer in the eighth inning, then broke the tie in the ninth on a run-scoring single by Willie Horton, who had struck out three times.

Frank Robinson drove in two runs with his 29th homer and a sacrifice fly as the Orioles capitalized on the wildness of Boston starter Dave Morehead for an early 4-0 lead. Moe Drabowsky replaced winner Tom Phoebus in the seventh and protected the rookie's 13th victory in 21 decisions.

Mickey Mantle collected three hits and drove in two runs, leading the Yankees against Cleveland. Leon Wagner's run - scoring single off winner Steve Barber in the third ended a string of 29 scoreless innings for the Indians, who were shut out by the White Sox in their previous two starts.

Don Mincher doubled with two out in the 11th inning and scored on Rick Reichardt's single, carrying the Angels past Kansas City. George Brunet and winner Bobby Locke checked the Athletics on six hits.

Jenkins Is Cubs Strikeout Leader

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Someone finally has overhauled Orval Overall.

It took 58 years, but Ferguson Jenkins finally did it Friday night by striking out two batters in the Chicago Cubs' 7-1 victory over the Atlanta Braves.

The strikeouts gave Jenkins 206 for the season, one more than the team record Overall pieced together for the Cubs in 1909.

"I just struck out two and that's terrible," said Jenkins, who gained his 18th victory against 12 defeats. "I might have been thinking about the record because the fewest I had struck out before this year was five.

"Now the big thing is to try to win 20, and I think I have three or four more chances to do it."

Old Orval, incidentally, won 20 games and lost 11 the year he set the strikeout record. His best season was 1907 when he was 23-8.

Over-all he was 108-72.

In other National League games, St. Louis blanked Cincinnati 4-0, San Francisco defeated Pittsburgh 6-3 and Los Angeles edged Philadelphia in a pair of 1-0 games.

Jenkins, who has played a major role in the rise of the Cubs this season, had to struggle to overtake Orval against the Braves. He didn't tie the mark until he fanned Joe Torre in the sixth inning, and he had to go into the ninth before getting Rico Carty on a called third strike.

The Cubs actually put the game away in the first inning as Ron Santo and Ernie Banks drove in three runs with a pair of doubles.

Steve Carlton pitched a two-hitter as St. Louis reduced its magic number to five. Any combination of Cardinal victories and San Francisco losses totaling five will clinch the pennant for St. Louis. Mike Shannon provided the big blow, a three-run homer in the third.

Willie McCovey unloaded two homers and Willie Mays one in the Giants' triumph over Pittsburgh. McCovey's second homer—and 27th of the year—followed a walk to Mays and put the Giants ahead 4-3 in the sixth.

Bill Singer stopped Philadelphia on five hits in Los Angeles' first 1-0 decision,. bringing his record to 12-6. John Roseboro's fourth-inning homer off Jim Bunning won it.

In the nightcap, Don Drysdale scattered six hits and outdueled Chris Short. The Phillie lefthander blanked the Dodgers until the ninth when Lou Johnson singled, was sacrificed to second and scored on Wes Parker's single.

Ex Cowhand Holds Lead In Golf Classic

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A one-time cowboy, placed his brand on the $110,000 Philadelphia Golf Classic Friday. Today, however, he'll have to watch 78 would-be rustlers if he hopes to retain his prize—a three-stroke lead after 36 holes of the 72-hole tournament.

The ex-cowboy, George Archer, who admits he used to clean out barns and ride the range in Gilroy, Calif., shot a six-under par 31-35—66 in Friday's second round play. It left him with a 36-hole score of 134, 10 under par for the 6,708-yard Whitemarsh Valley Country Club course.

Riding hard behind him is Billy Casper, who shot a 33-35—68 for a total of 137.

Archer has to be peering over his shoulder at Casper, one of the five players on the tour who has won more than $100,000 this year.

Still in contention and capable of lassoing the $22,000 first prize is Australia's Bruce Devlin, the first round leader who skied from a 65 to a 73 and slipped to third place with a 138.

Doug Ford, Master's champion Gay Brewer, Bob Charles and Dan Sikes were bracketed at 139.

Archer, who stands 6-foot-6 and plays as big a game, said his driving and putting were the secrets to his round of six birdies and 12 pars.

Local Boy Sets Record In Shooting

David Pickins, 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Pickins of McCoy Ave., recently received a certificate for establishing a world record in bench rest shooting.

Pickins turned in the record July 15 at Reed's Run rifle range at Augusta, Ohio, and will return this weekend to compete in the Eastern Regional meet to be held Saturday and Sunday.

Pickins' record came in shooting a rifle from a rest for a five shot group at 200 yards, measuring .161 with unrestricted rifle in the restricted rest class.

He has been competing for the past three years.

Amendments to the bylaws were read by Mrs. Richards.

Mrs. Gengerella thanked the members who worked on all summer projects.

Mrs. Bloor introduced Robert Lawrence, a beauty salon operator at Bridgewater, who presented a hair - styling demonstration using five models.

Hostesses at the social hour were Mrs. Bill Yee, Mrs. Paul Susich, Mrs. Hallett and Mrs. Richards. Fall flowers were used as the centerpiece and to decorate the room.

Mrs. Paul Susich and Mrs. Richards will be co - hostesses of a board meeting Oct. 4.

CDA Delegate Named

Court Midland of the Catholic Daughters of America has voted to send Mrs. Rocco Orlando, Grand Regent, as a delegate to a CDA state workshop at Hershey Oct. 13-15. Mrs. James Green was named as an alternate.

Plans are being completed for a CDA go-go party to be held at Presentation Catholic Church lyceum Oct. 3 at 7:45 p. m. with Mrs. Virginia Amato as program chairman, and Mrs. Irene Duffy, luncheon chairman.

Several members of the CDA held a game party Friday for patients at the Veterans Memorial Hospital at Butler.

Mrs. Anthony Masters, Ways and Means chairman, reported on plans to hold a public card party Oct. 8 at Presentation's Regan Hall. Other money-making projects were discussed. Each member was asked to bring a prize or a grocery item to the Oct. 3 meeting to be offered at the card party.

The CDA is planning a rummage sale for early November and a Christmas booth at some location in Midland.

Mrs. Masters, who is also chairman of the Bishop Wright project envelopes, asked members to turn in their envelopes.

The Rev. Stephen J. Burdis, pastor of Presentation Church, spoke briefly on the Holy Eucharist.

Mrs. Regis Mullen, training coordinator of the Pittsburgh Division of the Confraternity of Christian Doctrine, spoke briefly on the CCD.

Mrs. Green was the recipient of the monthly prize. Mrs. Richard McGeehan won a special prize. Games were played and prizes were awarded.

Mrs. McGeehan was luncheon chairman, and Mrs. Irene Trevino was program chairman.

ISDA Meeting Slated

Mrs. Arthur Clark who operates a doll hospital at her home at Five Points in Ohioville Borough will present her doll collection and lecture on how to mend dolls when the Italian Sons and Daughters of America meets Tuesday night at 7:30 at Presentation Catholic Church lyceum.

Members may bring guests, Mrs. Clem Migliore, president, announced.

Mrs. Joseph Pakavich will be the officer of the month.

Conflict Noted After Inventory

LISBON — A court - ordered inventory of property of Mrs. Hattie Snyder, 94, at the Columbiana County Home conflicts with one filed earlier by Robert Boyce, home superintendent.

The new inventory, made Wednesday by W. E. Hiscox, Lisbon auctioneer, and Mrs. Olive Welsh, Hanoverton antique dealer, noted "36 items marked destroyed by fire are still at the County Home" and itemized 13 articles "not listed on the original list."

Boyce filed for Probate Court permission to dispose of Mrs. Snyder's belongings as her guardian. County Commissioner James W. Boyd entered the litigation, claiming Boyce did not properly account for Mrs. Snyder's property.

Judge Louis Tobin continued a hearing Sept. 6 and ordered an inventory by disinterested parties. A new hearing will be scheduled after Boyce files an amended inventory.

Gunmen Get $7,898 In Pittsburgh Holdup

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Two gunmen have escaped with $7,898 from an office of the Prudential Insurance Co.

Police said they ordered six women employes to lie on the floor. One of the bandits held them at bay while another scooped the money from cash drawers and a safe, police said.

They said the size of the haul was increased because Friday is collection day at the office.

Midland Area News

Mrs. Charles McClure 643-1130

Twenty prospective members were introduced by Mrs. Arthur Bloor, membership chairman, when the Midland Junior Womens Club met Wednesday night at the social rooms of the First Presbyterian Church.

The prospective members are Mrs. Keith Groscost, Mrs. Louis Steff, Mrs. Larry Bender, Mrs. Sam Parks, Mrs. Thomas McGeehan, Mrs. James LeMasters, Mrs. Frank Poff, Mrs. Thomas Tonkovich, Mrs. Dean Adkins, Mrs. Victor Presutti, Mrs. Michael Caffro, Mrs. Bernard Schmitt, Miss Cheryl Turner, Mrs. William Descutner, Mrs. John Girting, Mrs. Sal Boyle, Mrs. Donald DeTurco, Mrs. Paul Evans, Mrs. Thomas Krakar and Mrs. Paul Massey.

Past presidents attending the reciprocity meeting Wednesday were Mrs. William Monac Jr., Mrs. John Adams, Mrs. Louis Hallett and Mrs. Edward Richards. County Club representatives present were Mrs. William Pullinger and Mrs. Ben Hardesty of New Brighton, Mrs. Charles Sprague and Mrs. John R. Smith of Freedom, and Mrs. John Waddell, Mrs. Wallace Hess and Mrs. Robert Knee of Beaver.

Guests were welcomed by Mrs. Guy E. Gengerella, president.

Mrs. Richards, chairman of the Community Affairs committee, reported on the progress of a community improvement project — renovating the Lincoln Park cenotaph — and spoke about a booth the Juniors sponsored at the Dixmont Hospital carnival this summer.

Mrs. Hallett of the Education and Libraries committee reported that the "Girl of the Month" project will be continued.

Mrs. John Reider and Mrs. Vincent Monaco, co - chairmen of the Finance committee, gave reports. Mrs. Reider announced that the club will conduct a sale of dresses made by Young Look Mrs. Monaco announced that the annual dance will be the "Harvest Ball" Nov. 18 at the Crucible Management Club at Industry. Music will be by the Hi-Knights of Aliquippa.

Mrs. Edward Belfiglio, chairman of legislation and public affairs, announced she will contact local newspapers to ask the editors to print a profile analysis of each candidate who will run in the November election.

Amendments to the bylaws were read by Mrs. Richards.

Mrs. Gengerella thanked the members who worked on all summer projects.

Mrs. Bloor introduced Robert Lawrence, a beauty salon operator at Bridgewater, who presented a hair - styling demonstration using five models.

Hostesses at the social hour were Mrs. Bill Yee, Mrs. Paul Susich, Mrs. Hallett and Mrs. Richards. Fall flowers were used as the centerpiece and to decorate the room.

Mrs. Paul Susich and Mrs. Richards will be co - hostesses of a board meeting Oct. 4.

CDA Delegate Named

Court Midland of the Catholic Daughters of America has voted to send Mrs. Rocco Orlando, Grand Regent, as a delegate to a CDA state workshop at Hershey Oct. 13-15. Mrs. James Green was named as an alternate.

Plans are being completed for a CDA go-go party to be held at Presentation Catholic Church lyceum Oct. 3 at 7:45 p. m. with Mrs. Virginia Amato as program chairman, and Mrs. Irene Duffy, luncheon chairman.

Several members of the CDA held a game party Friday for patients at the Veterans Memorial Hospital at Butler.

Mrs. Anthony Masters, Ways and Means chairman, reported on plans to hold a public card party Oct. 8 at Presentation's Regan Hall. Other money-making projects were discussed. Each member was asked to bring a prize or a grocery item to the Oct. 3 meeting to be offered at the card party.

The CDA is planning a rummage sale for early November and a Christmas booth at some location in Midland.

Mrs. Masters, who is also chairman of the Bishop Wright project envelopes, asked members to turn in their envelopes.

The Rev. Stephen J. Burdis, pastor of Presentation Church, spoke briefly on the Holy Eucharist.

Mrs. Regis Mullen, training coordinator of the Pittsburgh Division of the Confraternity of Christian Doctrine, spoke briefly on the CCD.

Mrs. Green was the recipient of the monthly prize. Mrs. Richard McGeehan won a special prize. Games were played and prizes were awarded.

Mrs. McGeehan was luncheon chairman, and Mrs. Irene Trevino was program chairman.

ISDA Meeting Slated

Mrs. Arthur Clark who operates a doll hospital at her home at Five Points in Ohioville Borough will present her doll collection and lecture on how to mend dolls when the Italian Sons and Daughters of America meets Tuesday night at 7:30 at Presentation Catholic Church lyceum.

Members may bring guests, Mrs. Clem Migliore, president, announced.

Mrs. Joseph Pakavich will be the officer of the month.

Conflict Noted After Inventory

LISBON — A court - ordered inventory of property of Mrs. Hattie Snyder, 94, at the Columbiana County Home conflicts with one filed earlier by Robert Boyce, home superintendent.

The new inventory, made Wednesday by W. E. Hiscox, Lisbon auctioneer, and Mrs. Olive Welsh, Hanoverton antique dealer, noted "36 items marked destroyed by fire are still at the County Home" and itemized 13 articles "not listed on the original list."

Boyce filed for Probate Court permission to dispose of Mrs. Snyder's belongings as her guardian. County Commissioner James W. Boyd entered the litigation, claiming Boyce did not properly account for Mrs. Snyder's property.

Judge Louis Tobin continued a hearing Sept. 6 and ordered an inventory by disinterested parties. A new hearing will be scheduled after Boyce files an amended inventory.

Gunmen Get $7,898 In Pittsburgh Holdup

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Two gunmen have escaped with $7,898 from an office of the Prudential Insurance Co.

Police said they ordered six women employes to lie on the floor. One of the bandits held them at bay while another scooped the money from cash drawers and a safe, police said.

They said the size of the haul was increased because Friday is collection day at the office.

Junior Editors Quiz on MISSISSIPPI

QUESTION: How did the Mississippi River get its name?

ANSWER: Before the white men came, the Ojibway or Chippewa Indians, living in the forest regions around Lake Superior, knew of a big river which flowed southward. They named it Miss — meaning great — and added sippi for river. Pronounced the combination Missippi, as written on maps of the early French explorers, and you will see how this musical word seems to lengthen out to create the extra "ss" and "i" which were later given to it. Another translation of the Indian word is Father of Waters, which is most appropriate for this majestic stream. Rising in Lake Itasca, in northern Minnesota, the Mississippi flows southward for 2,350 miles. But this does not tell the full story. Great rivers from the west such as the Missouri, the Platte, the Arkansas, and the Red, join with the Father of Waters; from the east comes the Illinois, the Wabash, the Ohio. The Mississippi system drains an enormous area from the Rocky Mountains on the west to the Appalachians on the east. If the romance of the story begins to get you, open your mouth and break into a chorus of "Ol' Man River—he just keeps rollin' along!"

Kathleen Green of Springfield, Mo., wins today's combination prize of Compton's Illustrated Science Dictionary plus $10 in cash for this question. Mail yours on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of The Review.

Junior Editors Quiz on MISSISSIPPI

QUESTION: How did the Mississippi River get its name?

ANSWER: Before the white men came, the Ojibway or Chippewa Indians, living in the forest regions around Lake Superior, knew of a big river which flowed southward. They named it Miss — meaning great — and added sippi for river. Pronounced the combination Missippi, as written on maps of the early French explorers, and you will see how this musical word seems to lengthen out to create the extra "ss" and "i" which were later given to it. Another translation of the Indian word is Father of Waters, which is most appropriate for this majestic stream. Rising in Lake Itasca, in northern Minnesota, the Mississippi flows southward for 2,350 miles. But this does not tell the full story. Great rivers from the west such as the Missouri, the Platte, the Arkansas, and the Red, join with the Father of Waters; from the east comes the Illinois, the Wabash, the Ohio. The Mississippi system drains an enormous area from the Rocky Mountains on the west to the Appalachians on the east. If the romance of the story begins to get you, open your mouth and break into a chorus of "Ol' Man River—he just keeps rollin' along!"

Spending Cuts, Concessions Eyed

Tax Increase Tied In With 'Ifs'

By EDMOND LeBRETON
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Johnson administration faces the prospect that any tax increase may be permanently bottled up until deep spending cuts or other concessions to congressional opinion are forthcoming.

Fifteen of the 25 members of the House Ways and Means Committee say they will not under present circumstances vote to send a tax increase measure to the House floor, an Associated Press survey disclosed Friday. The committee has complete control over initiating tax legislation.

For most of the dissenting members, the price of support was stated as major spending cuts—substantially greater than the $2 billion figure mentioned by administration officials—or Tax Code revisions to eliminate what members regard as special privilege for some industries and individuals.

The administration has promised tax revision recommendations, but just when they will reach Congress isn't known.

The budget-pruning forces have the potent backing of Chairman Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., who contends a mere tax increase with Vietnam and domestic spending still rising will solve nothing, but will permanently reverse the trend toward lower taxation, set by the 1964 and subsequent tax cuts.

Mills and others have talked about dollar-for-dollar matching of tax increases with expenditure cuts. The tax increase would raise an estimated $7.4 billion.

Committeeman Joel T. Broyhill, R-Va., said, "I do not intend to vote for a tax increase until we get assurances there will be an equal reduction in non-essential federal expenditures."

Declaring he had steadily opposed the increase, Rep. James B. Utt, R-Calif., added: "If the President were up here lobbying to reduce these programs instead of lobbying to increase them, I'd be willing to go 50-50 with him."

Budget Director Charles L. Schultze and other officials were reported to be conferring, but Schultze turned away newsmen's questions.

The committee meets in closed session Tuesday. Members predicted it will mark time, waiting for a move by the administration.

Johnson has asked a 10 per cent income tax surcharge. He contends it's necessary to meet Vietnam war costs and to combat inflationary pressures his economic experts say will begin rising in the last half of this year.

Their predictions appeared to be at least partially vindicated Friday by a report showing U.S. industrial production took its biggest jump in 15 months during August.

The Federal Reserve Board said its index of industrial production rose 1.3 points to 158 per cent of the 1957-59 base period. That was exactly the same percentage as a year earlier.

The production index jump—following reports of record retail sales in August and a drop in unemployment to 3.8 per cent—appeared in line with the economic surge forecast by the administration.

White House Board

Railways Given 'Wage Package'

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's railroads are unhappy and union leaders quietly mollified in the wake of a compulsory $158 million wage package handed down by a White House board.

"We conclude that it is clearly inflationary," said chief railroad negotiator John Hiltz Jr. of the two-year package covering 137,000 shopcraft workers.

The wage hikes, endorsed by President Johnson, gave six railroad unions much of their demands. The board announced its recommendations Friday.

The board, created by Congress in a special law to halt a nationwide strike, set wage increases of 11 per cent plus 20 cents an hour in extra skill pay increases for about 100,000 of the workers.

The raises will become mandatory in 30 days unless there is a voluntary agreement, viewed as an extremely slim prospect.

The initial two-year cost to the railroads was cut down somewhat by scattering the wage hike over the two-year period.

"We're not jumping up and down in glee," said a union source, "but we're better off than we were." The unions remained officially silent.

The shopcraft workers now average $2.90 per hour and skilled men $3.05.

The sticky case, rife with political implications, marked the first time in history that Congress took a direct hand in setting wages except for general wartime wage-price controls.

Johnson praised the board's recommendations as "one of the finest products" ever to come from a presidential board. Then he slipped swiftly out of the White House Fish Room, leaving the explanations to Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., chairman of the five-man board.

Morse, who aroused organized labor's wrath by sponsoring the special law to halt the two-day nationwide walkout in July, called the wage recommendations "a much to be desired public service in this time of great national emergency."

The law forbids any further strike until Jan. 1, 1969.

Although organized labor loathes compulsory settlements, the fact AFL-CIO President George Meany was on the White House board and signed the unanimous report was expected to soften labor political reaction to Morse and the Johnson administration.

Meany's approval also bolstered the evidence the wage hikes represented a victory for the unions.

The only dissenting voice on the board was Frederick R. Kappel, retired board chairman of American Telephone & Telegraph Corp., who signed the unanimous report but tacked on "serious reservations."

Kappel opposed the amount of the skill increases, which will go into effect 5 cents at a time over four six-month intervals.

The pay raises will bring skilled workers up to $3.60 per hour from the present $3.05.

Another Levy Added

The Columbiana County Board of Elections has added another tax levy to the lengthy list already compiled.

Officials said the levy is for 2.8 mills additional levy for the Stark County Joint Vocational School district.

The levy will affect only three precincts in West Township in Columbiana County. The precincts overlap into the Stark County district.

Rockefeller Talk Set For Brooke

WELLSBURG — John D. Rockefeller IV of Charleston, Democrat member of the West Virginia House of Delegates from Kanawha County, will address a dinner meeting in St. Francis Center, Hooverson Heights, Oct. 5 under sponsorship of the Brooke County Democrat Executive Committee.

William E. Watson, county chairman, said other state and area Democrat officials will attend.

Rockefeller, whose name frequently has been mentioned in Democratic circles as a possible candidate for West Virginia governor, is the son of John D. Rockefeller III.

LBJ May Be Heeding Military More, McNamara Less

By BOB HORTON
AP Military Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Broadened U.S. bombing in North Vietnam suggests President Johnson may now be heeding his military chiefs more and Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara less on the course of the war.

If true, the days ahead may bring more U.S. attacks in high-risk, politically sensitive areas of the Communist country while magnifying whatever differences may exist between McNamara and the military.

A few days ago McNamara deprecated the need for striking the three major Communist ports of Haiphong, Cam Pha and Hon Gai. He told Congress this would not prevent the enemy from getting essential supplies through to forces in South Vietnam. The Joint Chiefs of military complex in or just out-

Monday, Cam Pha was bombed.

Tuesday, American planes attacked Haiphong in what the military billed as an attempt to seal off the main port.

Hon Gai may be next on the list, with the timing dependent on when the port is empty of Soviet ships—the condition under which Cam Pha was raided.

These were the latest in a series of new targets to be hit this year.

An Associated Press check o communiques shows that more than 20 new, militarily vital targets have been struck by U.S. planes since February. McNamara reportedly had reservations about the values in bombing at least some of the targets, as well as the risks involved.

McNamara's press office drew a distinction between facilities hit in Haiphong Tuesday, and the inviolate docks.

Phil G. Goulding, chief Pentagon spokesman, denied any approval had been given for striking the port facilities—a move McNamara has long opposed since Soviet vessels often are unloading there.

Two bridges, a railyard and a storage warehouse were attacked, all within two miles of Haiphong's center, all previously untouched and all removed from the docks themselves.

The White House for the second time this month denied any major disagreement exist among the top civilian and military heads. White House press secretary George Christian told newsmen Wednesday it was "not correct" to say McNamara opposed bombing within Haiphong.

Despite McNamara's contention that Hanoi cannot be bombed to the negotiating table, the face of the air war has changed significantly this year, both in terms of targets and numbers of flights.

The emphasis has switched from raids against moving "targets of opportunity" in North Vietnam's southern panhandle to strikes against fixed, key transportation and war-related industrial complexes in the northeast quadrant encompassing Hanoi and Haiphong.

Information gleaned from military reports and interviews indicates that so far this year the three rather distinct phases of what may be loosely termed escalation

These phases involved attacks on new, but not necessarily new types, of targets.

On Feb. 22, preceding the seasonal weather change which would clear skies over the North and improve bombing capability, President Johnson authorized strikes for the first time against the Thai Nguyen steel mill; three jet airfields; a thermal plant, railroad repair facility and bridges in Hanoi; and a cement plant, fuel dump and miliatry complex in or just outside Haiphong.

The next package of new targets allowed bombing closer to the center of Hanoi and within 10 miles of China. The strikes were authorized in early August at a time when Rep. Gerald R. Ford, House Republican leader, was criticizing bombing restrictions and as the Senate defense preparedness subcommittee began conducting a highly publicized hearing on the conduct of the war.

A third, more recent set of targets was checked off for the military after Sen. John B. Stennis' preparedness group wound up its examination of the air war with a report Aug. 31 assailing the civilian throttling of the bombing. These included Cam Pha and a series of attacks designed to cut transportation routes by which Haiphong feeds out imported war supplies. This was an alternative to hitting Haiphong's docks.

Barriers Hit Four Times In Lisbon Street

LISBON — Friday night traffic was rough on two Columbia Gas Co. "blinker - horses" guarding a patched hole in the center of E. Lincoln Way.

Hit four times — 10:40, 10:50, 1:10 and 1:45, they were still at work at daylight, but with bent frames and twisted lenses. One of three red lanterns set out as additional warning was smashed.

Police investigated the 10:50 crash because it involved two vehicles.

They said Charles F. Cunningham, 79, of 410 E. Lincoln Way hit the barricade as he drove east and knocked it into the front of a westbound 1967 pickup truck driven by Donald J. Baum, 42, of Lisbon RD 5.

Police said Cunningham said he did not see the "horses." There was approximately $100 damage to the front of the new pickup. No one was cited.

Cars driven by Eugene C. Warner, 59, of Akron and Raymond E. Lee, 53, of 529 N. Beaver St., collided at 9:30 a.m. Friday at the intersection of S. Beaver and Washington Sts.

Police said Warner, driving south on Beaver, stopped for the Washington St. stop sign, then pulled into the intersection and struck the westbound Lee car.

Warner was charged with failure to yield the right - of - way and forfeited a $15 appearance bond in mayor's court.

Burns Claim Girl, 7, In Pennsylvania Fire

PITTSBURGH (AP) — A 6-year-old girl died Friday night in Children's Hospital of burns suffered earlier in a fire which also burned her mother and a brother and destroyed their home in Spangler, Cambria County.

Janell Dospoy was burned over most of her body in the fire early Friday morning. She was one of 11 children of Gaynell and the late Bernard Dospoy.

Her mother received burns of her arms and legs and was reported in satisfactory condition at Miners Hospital, Spangler. A brother, Bernard Jr., 17, was treated and released.

The other children escaped safely.

Youth Given Indictment In Hospital Bed

LISBON — Donald T. Yates, 19, of Ridge St., Leetonia, accepted a second - degree manslaughter indictment Thursday in Salem City Hospital, where he has been since a July 19 traffic accident which killed his companion.

The victim was John A. Ward, 17, formerly of Lisbon St., Leetonia. Yates was injured critically and is in a body cast.

The defendant is a grocery clerk. He was driving a 1960 sedan which hit a utility pole on Route 344, three - tenths of a mile east of Leetonia.

The indictment is one of three traffic manslaughter charges returned secretly by the grand jury Tuesday. It charges Yates with three traffic law violations —reckless operation, driving too fast for conditions and driving left of center.

Crash Injuries Fatal

PITTSBURGH (AP) — A Washington County woman has died of injuries suffered when her car collided with a tractor-trailer. Margaret Pochiba, 52, of Rt. 1, Eighty Four, died Friday night in Montefiore Hospital. The collision took place earlier in the day.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Johnson administration faces the prospect that any tax increase may be permanently bottled up until deep spending cuts or other concessions to congressional opinion are forthcoming.

Fifteen of the 25 members of the House Ways and Means Committee say they will not under present circumstances vote to send a tax increase measure to the House floor, an Associated Press survey disclosed Friday. The committee has complete control over initiating tax legislation.

For most of the dissenting members, the price of support was stated as major spending cuts—substantially greater than the $2 billion figure mentioned by administration officials—or Tax Code revisions to eliminate what members regard as special privilege for some industries and individuals.

The administration has promised tax revision recommendations, but just when they will reach Congress isn't known.

The budget-pruning forces have the potent backing of Chairman Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., who contends a mere tax increase with Vietnam and domestic spending still rising will solve nothing, but will permanently reverse the trend toward lower taxation, set by the 1964 and subsequent tax cuts.

Mills and others have talked about dollar-for-dollar matching of tax increases with expenditure cuts. The tax increase would raise an estimated $7.4 billion.

Committeeman Joel T. Broyhill, R-Va., said, "I do not intend to vote for a tax increase until we get assurances there will be an equal reduction in non-essential federal expenditures."

Declaring he had steadily opposed the increase, Rep. James B. Utt, R-Calif., added: "If the President were up here lobbying to reduce these programs instead of lobbying to increase them, I'd be willing to go 50-50 with him."

Budget Director Charles L. Schultze and other officials were reported to be conferring, but Schultze turned away newsmen's questions.

Johnson has asked a 10 per cent income tax surcharge. He contends it's necessary to meet Vietnam war costs and to combat inflationary pressures his economic experts say will begin rising in the last half of this year.

The Federal Reserve Board said its index of industrial production rose 1.3 points to 158 per cent of the 1957-59 base period. That was exactly the same percentage as a year earlier.

The production index jump—following reports of record retail sales in August and a drop in unemployment to 3.8 per cent—appeared in line with the economic surge forecast by the administration.

Ford, House Republican leader, was criticizing bombing restrictions and as the Senate defense preparedness subcommittee began conducting a highly publicized hearing on the conduct of the war.

A third, more recent set of targets was checked off for the military after Sen. John B. Stennis' preparedness group wound up its examination of the air war with a report Aug. 31 assailing the civilian throttling of the bombing. These included Cam Pha and a series of attacks designed to cut transportation routes by which Haiphong feeds out imported war supplies. This was an alternative to hitting Haiphong's docks.

Barriers Hit Four Times In Lisbon Street

LISBON — Friday night traffic was rough on two Columbia Gas Co. "blinker - horses" guarding a patched hole in the center of E. Lincoln Way.

Hit four times — 10:40, 10:50, 1:10 and 1:45, they were still at work at daylight, but with bent frames and twisted lenses. One of three red lanterns set out as additional warning was smashed.

Police investigated the 10:50 crash because it involved two vehicles.

They said Charles F. Cunningham, 79, of 410 E. Lincoln Way hit the barricade as he drove east and knocked it into the front of a westbound 1967 pickup truck driven by Donald J. Baum, 42, of Lisbon RD 5.

Police said Cunningham said he did not see the "horses." There was approximately $100 damage to the front of the new pickup. No one was cited.

Cars driven by Eugene C. Warner, 59, of Akron and Raymond E. Lee, 53, of 529 N. Beaver St., collided at 9:30 a.m. Friday at the intersection of S. Beaver and Washington Sts.

Police said Warner, driving south on Beaver, stopped for the Washington St. stop sign, then pulled into the intersection and struck the westbound Lee car.

Warner was charged with failure to yield the right - of - way and forfeited a $15 appearance bond in mayor's court.

Burns Claim Girl, 7, In Pennsylvania Fire

PITTSBURGH (AP) — A 6-year-old girl died Friday night in Children's Hospital of burns suffered earlier in a fire which also burned her mother and a brother and destroyed their home in Spangler, Cambria County.

Janell Dospoy was burned over most of her body in the fire early Friday morning. She was one of 11 children of Gaynell and the late Bernard Dospoy.

Her mother received burns of her arms and legs and was reported in satisfactory condition at Miners Hospital, Spangler. A brother, Bernard Jr., 17, was treated and released.

The other children escaped safely.

Youth Given Indictment In Hospital Bed

LISBON — Donald T. Yates, 19, of Ridge St., Leetonia, accepted a second - degree manslaughter indictment Thursday in Salem City Hospital, where he has been since a July 19 traffic accident which killed his companion.

The victim was John A. Ward, 17, formerly of Lisbon St., Leetonia. Yates was injured critically and is in a body cast.

The defendant is a grocery clerk. He was driving a 1960 sedan which hit a utility pole on Route 344, three - tenths of a mile east of Leetonia.

The indictment is one of three traffic manslaughter charges returned secretly by the grand jury Tuesday. It charges Yates with three traffic law violations —reckless operation, driving too fast for conditions and driving left of center.

Crash Injuries Fatal

PITTSBURGH (AP) — A Washington County woman has died of injuries suffered when her car collided with a tractor-trailer. Margaret Pochiba, 52, of Rt. 1, Eighty Four, died Friday night in Montefiore Hospital. The collision took place earlier in the day.

White House Board

Railways Given 'Wage Package'

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's railroads are unhappy and union leaders quietly mollified in the wake of a compulsory $158 million wage package handed down by a White House board.

"We conclude that it is clearly inflationary," said chief railroad negotiator John Hiltz Jr. of the two-year package covering 137,000 shopcraft workers.

The wage hikes, endorsed by President Johnson, gave six railroad unions much of their demands. The board announced its recommendations Friday.

The board, created by Congress in a special law to halt a nationwide strike, set wage increases of 11 per cent plus 20 cents an hour in extra skill pay increases for about 100,000 of the workers.

The raises will become mandatory in 30 days unless there is a voluntary agreement, viewed as an extremely slim prospect.

The initial two-year cost to the railroads was cut down somewhat by scattering the wage hike over the two-year period.

"We're not jumping up and down in glee," said a union source, "but we're better off than we were." The unions remained officially silent.

The shopcraft workers now average $2.90 per hour and skilled men $3.05.

The sticky case, rife with political implications, marked the first time in history that Congress took a direct hand in setting wages except for general wartime wage-price controls.

Johnson praised the board's recommendations as "one of the finest products" ever to come from a presidential board. Then he slipped swiftly out of the White House Fish Room, leaving the explanations to Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., chairman of the five-man board.

Morse, who aroused organized labor's wrath by sponsoring the special law to halt the two-day nationwide walkout in July, called the wage recommendations "a much to be desired public service in this time of great national emergency."

The law forbids any further strike until Jan. 1, 1969.

Although organized labor loathes compulsory settlements, the fact AFL-CIO President George Meany was on the White House board and signed the unanimous report was expected to soften labor political reaction to Morse and the Johnson administration.

Meany's approval also bolstered the evidence the wage hikes represented a victory for the unions.

The only dissenting voice on the board was Frederick R. Kappel, retired board chairman of American Telephone & Telegraph Corp., who signed the unanimous report but tacked on "serious reservations."

Kappel opposed the amount of the skill increases, which will go into effect 5 cents at a time over four six-month intervals.

The pay raises will bring skilled workers up to $3.60 per hour from the present $3.05.

Another Levy Added

The Columbiana County Board of Elections has added another tax levy to the lengthy list already compiled.

Officials said the levy is for 2.8 mills additional levy for the Stark County Joint Vocational School district.

The levy will affect only three precincts in West Township in Columbiana County. The precincts overlap into the Stark County district.

Rockefeller Talk Set For Brooke

WELLSBURG — John D. Rockefeller IV of Charleston, Democrat member of the West Virginia House of Delegates from Kanawha County, will address a dinner meeting in St. Francis Center, Hooverson Heights, Oct. 5 under sponsorship of the Brooke County Democrat Executive Committee.

William E. Watson, county chairman, said other state and area Democrat officials will attend.

Rockefeller, whose name frequently has been mentioned in Democratic circles as a possible candidate for West Virginia governor, is the son of John D. Rockefeller III.

Two Autos Involved In 3rd St. Collision

Two cars collided on E. 3rd St. Friday afternoon, causing damage to both vehicles, but no injuries.

Police said an auto driven by Francis A. Savage, 20, of 1092 Avondale Ave. stopped in a line of traffic and was struck from behind by another vehicle operated by Thomas E. Hagyari, 18, of Fredericktown.

Hagyari told officers his brakes grabbed, causing his car to slide into Savage's auto.
